Unit description

Organisations are increasingly becoming involved in the mental health and wellbeing of employees. It is likely that this is a consequence of two central factors: (1) community pressure for organisations to take greater responsibility for employee mental health (as is the case for physical health), and (2) ensuring performance in a competitive commercial climate. Thus, organisational psychologist may find the requirement to blend their knowledge of organisational behaviour with knowledge of mental health as it relates to the workplace. This unit aims to provide masters students in organisational psychology with a basic understanding of counselling techniques, suicide-risk assessment, common psychopathology and intervention strategies and their relevance to practice within organisations.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate a working knowledge of theories and models of workplace stress

Ability to use methods of psychological investigation

Use structured interviewing for diagnostic purposes

- Ability to construct interview questions
- Ability to formulate hypotheses about organisational problems
- Use interpersonal communication skills
- Demonstrate written communication skills
- Demonstrate knowledge of psychopathology and diagnostic classification systems
- Demonstrate ability to design psychological interventions
- Ability to select appropriate mental health assessment tools
- Use the cognitive behavioural therapy model

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Interview schedule	50%	No	30th March 2018
Treatment plan	50%	No	5:00pm 20th April 2018

Interview schedule

Due: 30th March 2018

Weighting: 50%

The role of your interview will be to determine:

- The key stressors underpinning the staff members' distress
- The core psychological problems that seem to be emerging as a consequence of these stressors

Grades will be allocated on the basis of:

1. The use of organisational and other theoretical perspectives to form the basis of hypothesis (40% of assignment grade).
2. The formulation of hypotheses based on relevant theoretical perspectives about the key issues underpinning staff member distress (20% of assignment grade)
3. Your ability to gain interviewee consent (5% of assignment grade)
4. The appropriate use of interview questions to examine your hypotheses and determine the nature of distress (e.g., psychological outcomes for staff) (35% of assignment grade).

Students are required to submit the following:

1. A 800 word summary describing your formulation of the possible core issues impacting staff member distress based on relevant research
1. A 1200 word interview schedule with comments (footnotes or otherwise) detailing the relevance of questions to your hypotheses where appropriate.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a working knowledge of theories and models of workplace stress
- Ability to use methods of psychological investigation
- Use structured interviewing for diagnostic purposes
- Ability to construct interview questions
- Ability to formulate hypotheses about organisational problems
- Use interpersonal communication skills
- Demonstrate written communication skills
- Knowledge of legal and professional matters
- Ability to take appropriate notes and keep records

Treatment plan

Due: 5:00pm 20th April 2018

Weighting: 50%

Produce a 10 session treatment plan for the client (Karen) displayed in the vignette (see iLearn) (2000 words).

You need to:

1. Suggest a possible diagnosis of Karen and how Karen's symptoms relate to the DSM criteria for that disorder (20% assignment grade)
2. Suggest possible assessments to confirm your diagnosis and rule out alternative diagnoses (10% assignment grade)
3. Provide a 10 session treatment plan for Karen (assuming your diagnosis is correct) using recognised strategies for treating this particular problem (40% assignment grade)
4. Inclusion of homework activities and aspects of the plan that can be carried out in the workplace to assist Karen perform more effectively at work (30% assignment grade)

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a working knowledge of theories and models of workplace stress
- Demonstrate written communication skills

- Demonstrate knowledge of psychopathology and diagnostic classification systems
- Demonstrate ability to design psychological interventions
- Ability to select appropriate mental health assessment tools
- Use the cognitive behavioural therapy model
- Knowledge of legal and professional matters
- Demonstrate knowledge of sexuality and cultural issues in the workplace
- Ability to take appropriate notes and keep records

Delivery and Resources

This unit involves three lectures, two research highlight clips, and three full-day workshops. A minimal amount of content will be delivered in lecture form. Students will mostly be encouraged to participate in a variety of activities that will allow them to practice skills and receive immediate personalised feedback.

Students are expected to do the mandatory background reading before the classes, and be able to provide a short verbal summary of readings and respond to questions relating to those readings. There will often be concept-or skill-development activities performed in class, usually in groups, but students will also be assigned activities to perform between classes.

In addition to reading set papers, you are encouraged to consult textbooks and read other journal articles. This will be valuable for developing knowledge, and essential for completing assessment tasks.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central \(https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policy-central\). - Ability to select appropriate mental health assessment tools
- Use the cognitive behavioural therapy model
- Knowledge of legal and professional matters
- Demonstrate knowledge of sexuality and cultural issues in the workplace

Assessment tasks

- Interview schedule
- Treatment plan

PG - Research and Problem Solving Capability

Our postgraduates will be capable of systematic enquiry; able to use research skills to create new knowledge that can be applied to real world issues, or contribute to a field of study or practice to enhance society. They will be capable of creative questioning, problem finding and problem solving.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a working knowledge of theories and models of workplace stress
- Ability to use methods of psychological investigation

- Ability to formulate hypotheses about organisational problems
- Demonstrate knowledge of psychopathology and diagnostic classification systems
- Demonstrate ability to design psychological interventions
- Ability to select appropriate mental health assessment tools
- Knowledge of legal and professional matters

Assessment tasks

- Interview schedule
- Treatment plan

PG - Effective Communication

Our postgraduates will be able to communicate effectively and convey their views to different social, cultural, and professional audiences. They will be able to use a variety of technologically supported media to communicate with empathy using a range of written, spoken or visual formats.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Use structured interviewing for diagnostic purposes
- Ability to construct interview questions
- Use interpersonal communication skills
- Demonstrate written communication skills

Assessment tasks

- Interview schedule
- Treatment plan

PG - Engaged and Responsible, Active and Ethical Citizens

Our postgraduates will be ethically aware and capable of confident transformative action in relation to their professional responsibilities and the wider community. They will have a sense of connectedness with others and country and have a sense of mutual obligation. They will be able to appreciate the impact of their professional roles for social justice and inclusion related to national and global issues

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Use structured interviewing for diagnostic purposes
- Use interpersonal communication skills
- Knowledge of legal and professional matters

- Demonstrate knowledge of sexuality and cultural issues in the workplace
- Ability to take appropriate notes and keep records
