Unit description

Organisational Behaviour (OB) is a multi-disciplinary field that uses insights from psychology, anthropology, philosophy and sociology to study human behaviour in organisational settings. In this unit, students critically examine insights into human behaviour to better manage and improve organisational performance and capability, with an emphasis on ethical management and a global mindset. The unit covers the micro perspectives of OB (such as individual foundations, perceptions, attitudes and motivation); meso (such as groups, communication and team dynamics); and macro (such as organisational culture, change, power and leadership), as well as ethics and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Critically reflect on and practically apply the theoretical frameworks and research findings about human behaviour within organisations

Critically reflect on and practically apply the micro, meso, and macro perspectives on organisational problems and phenomena

Critically reflect on and practically apply contingent perspectives of theoretical frameworks in exploring organisational problems and phenomena

Critically reflect on and practically apply the critical importance of people management and leadership to the efficient and effective operation of organisations

Critically reflect on and practically apply organisational behaviour principles and theories within their own work experiences for managing and leading people and organisations successfully

Critically reflect on and practically apply OB theories and their applications from cross cultural and ethical perspectives in developing their knowledge of leadership and management

General Assessment Information

In this unit, students are required to:

- Read and engage in all required materials in advance (before each session, including textbook chapters, additional reading, case studies and individual activities)
- Participate in class interaction (10 weekly forums)
- Complete all unit activities and exercises, including group assignment and Unit Feedback
- Complete the assessment components through the unit and a three-hour, open-book examination (see 7. Assessments for weightings).
- It is highly recommended you participate in the Adobe Connect live online classes, at least 8 times to maximise the learning outcomes (sessions will be recorded)

You will be assigned to a certain Group. Together with the group you will need to choose a certain topic and question from the list below. To answer the question you need to use a case study of an organisation that one of the group members works/worked in or one that you all know (not the case studies that are on the iLearn!). You will need to write a literature review based on the readings for this topic as well as at least five additional ones (academic articles, not just websites) to answer your question. Each member of the group is required to participate equally in the assignment.

The report is to be no longer than 2500 words (excluding references, tables and appendices). It should include:

- 1. Introduction and rationale: what are you focusing on and why did you choose this case study to answer your question (about ½ page). You will be assessed on how well you introduce your report and rationalise your choices.
- 2. Literature review: What is the relevant literature to answer this question? Find at least 5 sources in addition to the class materials for the relevant topic (about 2-3 pages). You will need to include in this session at least one theory, the additional readings provided in this unit guide, and additional sources (theories, articles and web links that you have found to assist you in answering your question). You will be assessed on the quality and quantity (number of references) of your literature review.
- 3. Case study: Analyse the case study you have chosen in light of the theories and literature. Make sure you are not only descriptive, but analytical as well (about 2-3 pages). You will be assessed on the data you have collected, on the depth of your analysis and on basing your case analysis on the above literature. It is important to use the literature and references when you analyse the case.
- 4. Discussion and conclusion: What are your main findings? What are your conclusions? What are the limitations of the theory based on your case analysis? (½ page). This is a good place to reflect and assess your work, the theory and the case.

Group report questions

Please choose one question from the list below:

Session

Topic title

Questions

Individual Behaviour

Self-managing work teams provide employees with substantial autonomy. What combination of personality traits might be important for selecting employees for these types of teams? (the focus should be personality, not teams)

Motivation

What is role of money in motivating people in the workplace? What are the limitations? Discuss while using one motivation theory

Groups & Teams

What can be done to avoid Group-Think in high-pressure teams?

Communication

“Organisational communication problems are like the weather: everyone talks about it, but no one ever does anything about it.” Why are problems in organisational communication so difficult to resolve when the process is apparently simple?

Power & Influence

Why is referent power so important to achieve organisational influence? Use an example of someone with referent power to illustrate.

Leadership

Transformational leadership is the most popular perspective of leadership. However, it is far from perfect. Discuss transformational leadership and its limitations based on a case of a transformational leader.

CSR (corporate social responsibility)

Discuss the benefits of employee engagement in CSR and ways of getting people involved. Bring an example of an organisation that does it well.

Organisational Culture

Some people suggest that the most effective organisations have the strongest cultures. What is meant by the 'strength' of organisational culture and what possible problems are there with a strong organisational culture?

10

Organisational Change

Employee resistance is a symptom, not a problem, in the change process. What are some of the real problems that may underlie employee resistance?

Plagiarism

Group Reports will undergo a systematic plagiarism check. Instances found of plagiarism may affect your Group Report mark and lead to a Fail mark. See 11. Academic Honesty Policy.

Referencing

Referencing must be in American Psychological Association (APA) 6th edition style. This means that when referring to an article or book etc., you indicate the author's name followed by the year of publication (Jones, 1989). For multiple authors include all names (Jones, Smith, & Wilson, 1990). Multiple sources need to appear in alphabetical order and to be divided by a semicolon (Smith, 2011; Werther, 2013). If you use a direct quote put the quoted words in "quotation marks" and include the page number with the reference (Jones, 1989, p. 76).

A reference list should be presented in alphabetical order at the end of the paper. Note that APA style references are used for the reading list of articles at the end of this outline. You can use Google Scholar to find the article and use "cite" to cite according to APA. Further information on APA style is available at <http://libguides.mq.edu.au/content.php?pid=459099&sid=3759394>

Submitting the Group Report online

1. Well before the deadline, your Group will read the Group Report Instructions in the Unit Guide, negotiate who is doing what by when in the Collaboration room. Also refer to your agreed Group Contract.
2. The designated member of your Group uploads the Group Report file (MS-Word doc) and the completed Group Assignment Cover Sheet to iLearn (Group Report Submission). Include your group number and topic in the file name (eg Group2_Motivation_GroupReport.doc).
3. The Lecturer marks the Group Report using the Lecturer's marking rubric, which you will also find in this Unit Guide. The lecturer could also ask group members to assess the individual contribution of each member which could affect his/her mark for contributing more or less than others.

4. Group Report results will be emailed to the members of the group, once the lecturer has graded the Group's Report.

Assessment and Marking

Assessment will take into account analysis of theory and practice, original research and literary presentation. Your report must follow the format and use a reference style as detailed above.

You should pay particular attention to the assessment criteria in the marking schedule below, as this will be the basis for deciding your mark.

You should also pay attention to submitting on time and in required length. Marks may be deducted for non-compliance with administrative requirements. Marks could also be deducted for individual members for not contributing equally.

Each member of the group will receive 50% of the mark for this assignment based on the overall performance of the group and 50% based on your individual contribution. In the cover sheet, you will need to detail what role each member of the group had in writing the report. The lecturer could also ask each group member to rate the contribution of other group members which may affect your individual mark (higher or lower).

The exam will include 5 essay style questions from which you will need to choose three. Your answers must demonstrate learning outcomes, knowledge of the readings, analytical ability, original thinking and reflection. Each answer is up to 1000 words.

This is an OPEN book exam. Do not simply copy content of others (books, websites, other students) into your answers. The originality of your exam answers will be analysed using purpose-built text-matching software. Evidence of plagiarism and/or collusion will result in a Fail grade.

A computer with internet access will be required. If you would like to print out the Online Exam Question Paper on the day to make quick notes, ensure that your computer is connected to a printer too. The exam format will be open book, based on the textbook and additional readings.

Please note that to pass the subject students must pass the final examination and perform satisfactorily in each assessment component.

You are expected to make yourself available for examination at the time designated in the MGSM Examination Timetable. The timetable will be available from Week 3 at:

<https://students.mgsm.edu.au/sydney-students/study/exams/>

How to submit your completed Exam paper (strictly Word document only)

To submit your completed Exam paper in iLearn:

1. Locate and click on the Final Online Exam link in iLearn.
2. Click Add Submissions button at the bottom of the iLearn page.
3.
 - a. Click the Add link, or drag and drop your Completed Exam Paper into the marked space. Note max file size is 10MB. Submit as a strictly MS Word document – not PDF.
 - b. If you clicked the Add link, the File Picker box will appear. Click Browse button.
 - i. Select your completed Exam Paper file from your computer files, then click Open.
 - ii. Enter the filename again in the Save as field.
 - iii. Enter your name in the Author field.
 - iv. Click Upload this file button.
 - v. Your file is now attached. Click Save changes.
4. A Submission status screen will then appear, indicating that your Exam Paper has been submitted for grading. MGSM will notify you of your Exam Results separately - this Submission Status screen is just a confirmation of your submission. (Ignore the Edit Submission button at bottom centre of your summary screen.) An automatic confirmation email entitled - You have submitted your assignment submission for MGSM870 Online Examination will be automatically emailed to you. If you don't receive the confirmation email, email Paul Marevich at teachingsupport@mgsm.edu.au or phone 02 9850 6098 asking for confirmation that your Exam Paper has been successfully submitted.

5. If you have technical difficulty in submitting your Online Exam paper, don't panic - just email your completed Exam Paper to kit.leung@mgsm.edu.au and cc teachingsupport@mgsm.edu.au

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically reflect on and practically apply the theoretical frameworks and research findings about human behaviour within organisations
- Critically reflect on and practically apply the micro, meso, and macro perspectives on organisational problems and phenomena
- Critically reflect on and practically apply contingent perspectives of theoretical frameworks in exploring organisational problems and phenomena
- Critically reflect on and practically apply the critical importance of people management and leadership to the efficient and effective operation of organisations
- Critically reflect on and practically apply organisational behaviour principles and theories within their own work experiences for managing and leading people and organisations successfully
- Critically reflect on and practically apply OB theories and their applications from cross cultural and ethical perspectives in developing their knowledge of leadership and management

MGSM iLearn

You will receive information, including your OneID/password, for accessing your MGSM iLearn unit when you have enrolled. You can log in (using your OneID and password) to your MGSM iLearn unit at: <http://mgsm.edu.au/ilearn>

Use the MGSM iLearn unit to access the unit content, exercises, assignments, and Online (Final) Exam.

To access resources and assessment tasks in your MGSM iLearn unit, you will need:

- A computer with access to the internet. Your MGSM iLearn unit will operate on the following web browsers (upgrade your browser to its most recent (non-testing) version):
 - Mozilla Firefox
 - Google Chrome
 - Apple Safari
 - Microsoft Internet Explorer (version 8 or later)
- A printer connected to your computer so that you can print out unit materials. You may need to print out supporting information beforehand for your Online (Final) Exam at the end of the unit.

Weekly Adobe Connect Live Online Class

It is highly recommended you participate in the weekly Adobe Connect live online classes, at least 8 times to maximise the learning outcomes. These sessions are 60 minutes in length and will be recorded for review purposes.

Technical requirements:

- A headset with microphone is recommended (to avoid echo sounds and feedback)
- A laptop or desktop device is preferred over a mobile device
- An up to date version of Adobe Flash installed
- Please see technical specifications for browser recommendations (Google Chrome is recommended)

Unit Schedule

The unit will be presented over 10 sessions as follows:

Session	Topic	Primary Readings	Session will start on	Adobe Connect online class Thursdays 7pm-8pm
0	Test Adobe Connect			4/01/2018 (30 mins)

Alignment of this unit with MGSM's mission-driven attributes

Leadership: The unit focuses on the understanding of human behaviour within organisations in order to enhance management and leadership capabilities. It is about leading others (individuals, teams and organisations) and self.

Global mindset: The unit develops a global mindset by looking at different personalities, attitudes and perceptions, and confronting with prejudice and biases. It covers global mindset perspectives and a contingent understanding of culture in the application of OB theories and frameworks. In this context “Global Mindset” means the ability to understand and influence people with views unlike one's own.

Citizenship: Organisations' most valuable assets are their people. The unit develops an understanding of people in organisations, what motivates them and creates engagement and commitment, allowing organisations to enhance their sustainability.

Creating sustainable value: The unit stresses the “human” side of organisations and seeks to enhance leadership capacities to allow contribution as good citizens to the community. The unit covers the enhancement of organisational citizenship as well as corporate social responsibility and the community.

Attendance Policy (MGSM)

The interactive environment of the classroom is central to the MGSM experience. Students are required to attend the full duration of all classes for the units in which they are enrolled. We recognise that exceptional circumstances may occur, such as unavoidable travel on behalf of your organization or the serious illness or injury of you or a close family member.

Weekly Study Plan

Weekly Study Plan

	Day	Stage	What you need to do
1		Individual Preparation (video; textbook; required further tasks; case)	Students prepare for the Group Discussion by watching the intro video, engaging with the Textbook, Readings and Case materials and answering the self-assessment Quiz (these Quizzes are not marked) for each week/Topic

3		Group Discussion Activity (asynchronous)	Students click on the relevant Lecturer post in the Group Discussion that will set out the Case questions. Students then have 7 days to post their answers and comment on others' posts to develop a focused interaction that teases out the issues and brings out people's relevant real-world experiences. You will need to submit your post prior to the class discussion on Thursday night. To do this, click on the relevant post, and then click Reply at the bottom right corner. Your lecturer's first post is the 'parent' post for that week/topic, so keep Replying to either that post or your students' posts during this period. Please take note of specific activity instructions for each topic. This is a student-driven discussion so your lecturer will only post to steer and reinvigorate discussion as necessary. Check the Marking Guide for Individual Participation to see how you will be assessed.
4	Every Thursday 7pm-8pm	Online class via Adobe Connect	The online class will be a good opportunity to learn more about the topic directly from the Lecturer. The Lecturer will also answer students' questions so it is advised that students come prepared with their questions to the online discussions.
5		Prep for Interaction	The cycle begins again by working through the content for the next topic.
