Unit description

This unit will give students a comprehensive overview of the colourful art and architecture of the 'other' Egypt, Egypt after the Pharaohs, and will study the most important archaeological sites from the Christian period of Egypt. Topics studied will include church architecture, the archaeology of towns, villages, monasteries and cemeteries, painting, sculpture and objects of daily life. Coptic Art and Archaeology will give students a comprehensive overview of the history of Coptic art and architecture and the most important archaeological sites from the Christian period of Egypt. At the same time, it will present some of the major sources we have for this topic and look at the immense bibliography available. It will teach students to see these sources within their historical and archaeological context, to understand the characteristics of their particular type or genre and to evaluate the historical information gathered from them. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.open.edu.au/student-admin-and-support/key-dates/>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt.
2. Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments.
3. Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history.
- 4.

Classify and interpret literary, artistic, archaeological, and artifactual material, as well as significant monuments from late antique Egypt. 5. Understand and assess the role of modern institutions in curating historical sites and artefacts 6. Apply skills in using bibliographical resources, research tools, databases, and online resources to the study of late antique Egypt. 7. Utilise communication skills appropriate to academic discussion.

General Assessment Information

Assignment Submission All written assignments (tutorial submission, essay) will be submitted via Turnitin.

Extensions All deadlines are firm unless an extension has been requested before the due date. All requests for extension must be submitted via the University's Disruption to Studies system.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Note on Assessment - To complete the unit satisfactorily you will need to achieve an overall mark worth 50% or above.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON FINAL MARKS: Please note with respect to the marks you receive for work during the session: that the marks given are indicative only; final marks will be determined after moderation.

Artefact Study

Due: 26/03/18

Weighting: 20%

Artefact study Due: 26/03/18 Weighting: 20%

Students must choose a single ancient artefact associated with monasticism and write an 800 word analysis of it. The choice of artefact is up to students, but it must be a single moveable artefact, i.e., it cannot be a monument or building, or a text written on an immovable object such as a wall. It may be a pot, papyrus, codex, ostrakon, icon, wooden tablet, or any object of daily life, such as a pen, inkwell, toy, or piece of clothing. The artefact must have been excavated in a monastery, or be certainly from one if it was purchased via the antiquities trade. Students may select any artefact mentioned in the sources placed on iLearn, or may source an artefact from elsewhere. Choose carefully, as an inappropriate choice will effect your mark.

Your artefact study should address the following points.

- What is the artefact?
- Where did it come from and how can we tell? I.e., what is its provenience (find spot) and/ or provenance (collection history)?
- Where is the artefact now? Give full publication or collection details.
- When does it date to?
- What role did it play in the daily life of its community?
- What can we tell from it about the monastic community from which it came?

You must be able to say where the artefact is now and cite a source (either reprint or online) for it. Provide a bibliography of sources consulted at the end of your study.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt.
- Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments.
- Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history.
- Classify and interpret literary, artistic, archaeological, and artifactual material, as well as significant monuments from late antique Egypt.
- Understand and assess the role of modern institutions in curating historical sites and artefacts
- Apply skills in using bibliographical resources, research tools, databases, and online resources to the study of late antique Egypt.
- Utilise communication skills appropriate to academic discussion.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt. 2. Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments. 3. Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history. 4. Classify and interpret literary, artistic, archaeological, and artifactual material, as well as significant monuments from late antique Egypt. 5. Understand and assess the role of modern institutions in curating historical sites and artefacts 6. Apply skills in using bibliographical resources, research tools, databases, and online resources to the study of late antique Egypt. 7. Utilise communication skills appropriate to academic discussion.

Short Paper

Due: 30/04/18

Weighting: 30%

Short Paper Due: 30/04/18 Weighting: 30%

Please choose one of the following archaeological project websites for evaluation (1000 words \pm 100):

(1) Excavations at Amheida: <http://www.amheida.org/> or:

(2) Beni Hassan in Late Antiquity: <https://www.monasticarchaeology.org/beni-hassan> or:

(3) Yale Monastic Archaeology Project South (Sohag): <http://egyptology.yale.edu/expeditions/current-expeditions/yale-monastic-archaeology-project-south-sohag>

Whichever website you choose, please discuss – briefly – most of the following points:

Background of the website

- Who is responsible? What is their relationship to the site? Do they identify themselves clearly (including funding agencies, affiliations etc.)?

Goals and methods • Who do you think is the intended audience (e.g. colleagues, funding agencies, children, potential visitors, potential private sponsors)?

- Is a particular value system recognisable in the excavation (e.g. religious, aesthetic, political, humanitarian)? Does the website say why the excavation exists? How does it present the group of artefacts/the site as particularly interesting/worthwhile? Does it make any reference to the modern situation in the area?

- Are questions of method addressed in the website? Does the excavation subscribe to particular archaeological science methods?

- Does the site say anything about the preservation of the artefacts or the site?

Contents organisation

- Is there too little/sufficient/too much information?

- Is the information clearly structured?

- Goals and methods: do they become clear from the description of the project?

- Pictures: is there a working relationship between text and pictures?

- Does one get access to further information?

Technical side

- Requirements: does the website load fast even with a low-speed internet connection? Does it load equally well in any browser?
- Do you approve of the choice of layout (e.g. clear, easy to distinguish between important and less important elements or else: too overloaded with information, too busy with gruesome colours and distracting gimmicks)?
- Graphics: do the pictures load quickly? Is the quality good?
- Links: Is the navigation easy to use? Do all of the links work? Is the hierarchy of links clearly structured (e.g. pesky little things like: can you navigate back and forth easily or do you need to use the “back” and “forward” buttons of your browser)?

Evaluation

- Does the website reach its goals?
- Have a brief glance at the other websites listed above. Overall, which one seems the best?
- If you have any suggestions for improvement, please include them in your paper. Do not simply summarise the contents of the information on the website, briefly mentioning what the topic and the sub-topics are. Specific details should be discussed in order to make a comment or criticism.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

Major Essay

Weighting: 40%

Major Essay Due: 11/06/18 Weighting: 40%

Students will write an essay of 2000 words (± 200) on a particular aspect of a Coptic monastery, choosing from the questions below. The goal of this essay is to produce an analysis of a single topic directly connected to the art and archaeology of Coptic monasticism.

How to proceed:

- First, choose a question from the list below.
- What can we tell from a monastery's iconographic program about the liturgical life of the monastery and the historical circumstances in which it was created? Choose one of the following monasteries: Red Monastery, St Antony, St Paul, Monastery of the Syrians, or Bawit.
- What do the sculptural motifs and techniques at a monastery tell us about the influences on those who created it, and the reuse of earlier material? Choose either the White monastery, or the Monastery of St Jeremiah at Saqqara
- What can we tell from the library of the White monastery about the way books were copied and used in the monastery?
- Choose two churches at different Egyptian monasteries and compare them: what accounts for the differences and similarities you observe?
- In what ways do monks reuse earlier space, and what are the implications of the spaces they choose? Choose either the monastery of St Jeremiah at Saqqara, or the Monastery of Epiphanius at Thebes.
- What can the ceramics found in a monastic context tell us about daily life and trade? Choose either the monastery of St Jeremiah at Saqqara, or the Monastery of Epiphanius at Thebes.

Then, select the appropriate bibliographical references from the bibliography provided on the iLearn page. Start your essay by a short historical overview concerning the subject chosen. Describe the sites, monuments or objects that you selected, trying to stick to the main thread. Finish the essay by a short conclusion. Give in a few words the general features of the sites, monuments or objects that you have chosen to study. If relevant, include images of the sites, monuments or objects that you described in the essay. Provide short captions for the pictures.

Please do not exceed the word limit. It is a virtue to be concise – and a much requested skill these days. Please note that there will be no reward for exceeding the limit. Note that footnotes and bibliography do not count in the word limit.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- 1. Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt. 2. Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments. 3. Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history. 4. Classify and interpret literary, artistic, archaeological, and artifactual material, as well as significant monuments from late antique Egypt. 5. Understand and assess the role of modern institutions in curating historical sites and artefacts 6. Apply skills in using bibliographical resources, research tools, databases, and online resources to the study of late antique Egypt. 7. Utilise communication skills appropriate to academic discussion.

Participation

Due: weekly

Weighting: 10%

Participation Due: Weekly Weighting: 10%

Ten percent (10%) of your mark will be based on the your participation in the online discussion forum on the iLearn site. The standard, length, of content of your weekly posts to the site are not assessed: all that is required is your participation, to develop your communication skills and ability to discuss historical problems and issues about the sources with your peers.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history.
- Utilise communication skills appropriate to academic discussion.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt. 2. Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments. 3. Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history. 4. Delivery and Resources

Delivery mode

This unit will be delivered online. A set of recorded lectures may be found in the Echo system on the iLearn page.

Technology used

The unit has an iLearn page which can be accessed at <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au>. PC and internet access are therefore required. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement. Content and discussions for this unit will be delivered via the unit iLearn page.

Readings

There is no textbook for this unit. Readings will be available via the library and the unit iLearn site, where other digital resources will also be placed.

Unit Schedule

Week 1 - Topic: Introduction and overview

Week 2 - Architecture: Construction materials and elements

Week 3 - Church architecture

Week 4 - Monastic architecture

Week 5 - The Architecture of Pilgrimage

Week 6 - Domestic and Funerary architecture

Week 7 - Sculpture

Week 8 - Funerary stelae

Week 9 - Painting

Week 10 - Book art, woodwork and ivory

Week 13 - Summary and general discussion

Policies and Procedures

Late Submission - applies unless otherwise stated elsewhere in the unit guide

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Extension Request

Special Consideration Policy and Procedure
(<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>)

The University recognises that students may experience events or conditions that adversely affect their academic performance. If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties at exam time or when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration.

You need to show that the circumstances:

1. were serious, unexpected and unavoidable
2. were beyond your control
3. caused substantial disruption to your academic work
4. substantially interfered with your otherwise satisfactory fulfilment of the unit requirements
5. lasted at least three consecutive days or a total of 5 days within the teaching period and prevented completion of an assessment task scheduled for a specific date.

If you feel that your studies have been impacted submit an application as follows:

1. Visit Ask MQ and use your OneID to log in
2. Fill in your relevant details
3. Attach supporting documents by clicking 'Add a reply', click 'Browse' and navigating to the files you want to attach, then click 'Submit Form' to send your notification and supporting documents
4. Please keep copies of your original documents, as they may be requested in the future as part of the assessment process

Outcome

Once your submission is assessed, an appropriate outcome will be organised.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Assessment tasks

- Artefact Study
- Short Paper
- Major Essay
- Participation

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- 1. Identify the evidence for styles of architecture and art, building techniques, and artistic methods in late antique Egypt. 2. Assess the relationship between historical and artistic developments. 3. Master specific terminology relating to art and architectural history. 4. Classify and interpret literary, artistic, archaeological, and artifactual material, as well as significant monuments from late antique Egypt. 5. Understand and assess the role of modern institutions in curating historical sites and artefacts 6.
