Unit description

This unit introduces students to the Australian legal system, including contract law, and focuses on corporate law and regulation. The relationship between the law and the role of accounting and business professionals is an underlying theme and students are encouraged to develop critical thinking skills as they analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context. The unit will provide students with perspectives on a range of commercially important legal issues such as forming a business, management responsibilities, investor/shareholder protection, and insolvency. Topics include contract law, agency, partnerships, characteristics of companies, director's duties, rights of shareholders, voluntary administration, and liquidation. The unit develops graduate capabilities associated with discipline specific knowledge, critical thinking and communication skills.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.

Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors.

Appraise and evaluate how shareholders rights are protected and how the Corporations Act regulates acquisition and disposal of shares.

Analyse insolvency mechanisms and issues and critically assess corporate insolvency in the current regulatory environment.

Ability to synthesise, analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context including the ability to apply the law and recognise various perspectives.

Media Reflection Assignment	20%	No	Week 11 beginning 22 May 2017
Final Examination	60%	No	University Examination Period

Assessed Coursework

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Assessed coursework involves evidence of preparation for, participation in, and contribution to the tutorial. See Assessment Guide on iLearn for more information.

Other than where a relevant application pursuant to the Disruption to Studies policy is approved, if a student attends less than 50% of the allotted tutorials the total available mark for assessed coursework will be reduced by 50%.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.
- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors.
- Appraise and evaluate how shareholders rights are protected and how the Corporations Act regulates acquisition and disposal of shares.
- Analyse insolvency mechanisms and issues and critically assess corporate insolvency in the current regulatory environment.
- Ability to synthesise, analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context including the ability to apply the law and recognise various perspectives.

Media Reflection Assignment

Due: Week 11 beginning 22 May 2017

Weighting: 20%

This assessment involves a written analysis of a current Australian newspaper/media article. It must be submitted via iLearn/Turnitin by 6pm Monday in Week 11 of the session. A hard-copy of the assignment (plus the relevant newspaper/media article) must also be submitted (handed-in) in your allocated/scheduled tutorial in Week 11 of the session. See Assessment Guide on iLearn for more information.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.
- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors.
- Appraise and evaluate how shareholders rights are protected and how the Corporations Act regulates acquisition and disposal of shares.
- Analyse insolvency mechanisms and issues and critically assess corporate insolvency in the current regulatory environment.
- Ability to synthesise, analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context including the ability to apply the law and recognise various perspectives.

Final Examination

Due: University Examination Period

Weighting: 60%

Examination Conditions: Formal, invigilated examination. You are expected to present yourself for examination at the time and place designated in the university examination timetable. The timetable will be available in draft form approximately eight weeks before the commencement of the examinations and in final form approximately four weeks before the commencement of the examinations. <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/exam>

See Assessment Guide on iLearn for more information.

Supplementary Exam:

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Disruption to Studies process the examination will be scheduled as per the Supplementary Examination timetable of the Faculty. Please note that the supplementary examination will be of a similar format to the final examination.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.

- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors.
- Appraise and evaluate how shareholders rights are protected and how the Corporations Act regulates acquisition and disposal of shares.
- Analyse insolvency mechanisms and issues and critically assess corporate insolvency in the current regulatory environment.
- Ability to synthesise, analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context including the ability to apply the law and recognise various perspectives.

Delivery and Resources

Classes

Students will undertake one lecture and one tutorial each week. Lectures begin in the first week – tutorials begin in week 2 (see iLearn for tutorial questions and unit schedule) – the sequencing of the lecture program and the unit content will allow you to develop your understanding of business and corporations law as the unit progresses. There may be some reorganisation, overlapping, and/or integration of areas to accommodate assessment and unit structure.

Prizes

More information concerning prizes in this unit can be found on the following web page:

http://www.businessandconomics.mq.edu.au/undergraduate_degrees/prizes_scholarships

Required and Recommended Texts

Required: Quilter, Company Law Perspectives, 3rd ed. 2017, Thomson Reuters (Lawbook Co.)

The text can be purchased from the Macquarie University Co-op Bookshop, and will be available in the Macquarie University library.

After considering the Australian legal framework and aspects of general commercial law the unit will focus on corporate issues and the relevance and effect of the Corporations Act. Note that certain relevant sections of the Corporations Act are set out in Company Law Perspectives 3rd ed. 2017. Statutes may be viewed in full at www.austlii.edu.au

Also note that the law is constantly changing and evolving, and you will be alerted to any substantial changes that are relevant to the unit or the text.

The following text is not required but may be useful : Lipton, Herzberg and Welsh, Understanding Company Law, 18th ed. 2016 Thomson Reuters (Lawbook Co.)

Useful websites

- www.asic.gov.au

- www.asx.com.au
- www.takeovers.gov.au

Lectures may make use of PowerPoint; overhead projectors; visualisers.

Unit material is available on the learning management system (iLearn)

Students should take responsibility for their own learning and this will incorporate reading as required, attendance at classes, developing effective study strategies, reflection on their abilities, and a task oriented approach to assessment – that is, do not think solely about gathering information/content - think about what you are required to do with that information/content, what makes for successful performance in your (various) assessments.,how you will use the law you have studied.

There are 2 main components of successful business and corporations law study: one is that students must have some knowledge of the core issues of the relevant topics [take short clear notes in classes, think about your task, involve yourself in classes], the second is that students will only be successful if they can apply what they have learned. That is, in class, your assignment, or in the exam, you have to be able to use the law to communicate, analyse, interpret and explain.

Students should be ready to allocate at least 150 hours during session time for BUSL250. This includes all classes, assessment, personal study and other learning activities.

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.
- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors.
- Appraise and evaluate how shareholders rights are protected and how the Corporations Act regulates acquisition and disposal of shares.
- Analyse insolvency mechanisms and issues and critically assess corporate insolvency in the current regulatory environment.
- Ability to synthesise, analyse and evaluate legal issues in a commercial context including the ability to apply the law and recognise various perspectives.

Assessment tasks

- Assessed Coursework
- Media Reflection Assignment
- Final Examination

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Examine the Australian legal system' including the law of contract, and comprehend the characteristics of different business organisations including understanding how companies are formed, distinguishing between different types of companies and the relevance of the company constitution.

- Final Examination

Changes from Previous Offering

BUSL250 has undergone curriculum renewal for 2017 - the unit was previously a general business law unit - it is now more corporate focused. There is still an introduction to general business law matters in the first 3 lectures and general business law issues carry through the balance of the unit. However from the 4th lecture forward the unit concentrates on regulation and particularly regulation of companies under the Corporations Act.

Research and Practice, Global and Sustainability

This unit addresses global and sustainability issues as direct areas of study and as necessary implications arising from the materials, assessment and academic discussion and debate in classes/seminars. The Department of Accounting and Corporate Governance promotes sustainability by developing the ability in students to research and locate information within the accounting discipline. The Department aims to provide students with an opportunity to obtain skills which will benefit them throughout their career.

The required text for this unit (Company Law Perspectives) and the recommended text (Understanding Company Law) are the result of research in relation to the area of company law. The material in these texts provides you with a thorough coverage of the relevant issues. Interested students can pursue further research into any of the areas of this unit via the various scholarly journals focusing on company law. Examples of journals that can be consulted to follow up matters of interest are: Australian Journal of Corporate Law; Company and Securities Law Journal.
