Unit description
A minor thesis of 15,000 words to be completed over one or two semesters. To complete the research project students must also enrol in ECJS883. A final grade will awarded for both ECJS883 and ECJS881 when the research project has been submitted and examined. ECJS883 and ECJS881 are normally taken in consecutive semesters. Candidates intending to take this unit must consult with the unit co-ordinator and with a potential thesis supervisor. Entry to the unit is subject to suitable supervision arrangements being available.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/enrolmentguide/academicdates/

Assembly & Bibliography

Due: 25 August 2014
Weighting: 30%

Finalise assembly of relevant ancient and modern sources for the chosen topic in consultation with your supervisor and building on your work in ECJS 883. Provide a critical evaluation of the Ancient sources and at least two modern sources. Criteria for evaluation include critical approach and comprehensiveness.

Word count up to 2,000 words.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
- Assemble a coherent body of material.
- Evaluate and examine documents/artefacts/literary sources at an advanced level.

Project outline

Due: 25 August 2014
Weighting: 10%

Write a final outline of your project and its historical significance, in consultation with your supervisor and building on your work in ECJS 883.

Please format this as if it were a research proposal.

- title; 20 words max,
- brief outline: 10 words max, intelligible to the non specialist.
- significance of topic: 100 to 200 words max, outlining what this topic contributes to understanding the broader field, and why it needs to be researched.
- method: 100 to 200 words max, outlining how the research is being done and what specialist tools are being used.
- the criteria for assessment include critical approach to sources.
This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Evaluate and examine documents/artefacts/literary sources at an advanced level.
- Investigate an historical problem at an advanced level.

Research Assignment

Due: 3 November 2014
Weighting: 60%

For this assessment students must produce a final version of the minor research project, amounting to 15-20,000 words, and email it to their supervisor and Professor Nobbs.

Criteria for assessment include comprehensiveness and critical approach to both Ancient and modern sources.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Assemble a coherent body of material.
- Evaluate and examine documents/artefacts/literary sources at an advanced level.
- Acquire greater competence in historical analysis.
- Investigate an historical problem at an advanced level.
- Formulate arguments and express ideas at an advanced level.
- Reflect upon the process of research and on scholarly debates.

Delivery and Resources

It is an inherent requirement of this unit that all three assignments must be submitted.

There are no required readings for this unit. The unit will have a presence in iLearn.

Assignments should be submitted electronically via email to alanna.nobbs@mq.edu.au.

PC and Internet access are required. Basic Computer skills (eg Internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement. Please consult your supervisor for any further, more specific requirements.

NOTE: extensions for assignments can only be granted for medical reasons or on compassionate grounds. Without documentation (medical or counselling certificates) or prior staff approval, a penalty of 2% per day, including weekends, will be applied. If required, applications for extensions should be made to your supervisor before the assignment's due date.
