Unit description
In this unit students will be encouraged to develop an ethical approach to the study and practice of law. Ethical problems may present in diverse ways, including problems of confidentiality, access to justice or conflict of duty and interest. The lawyer's role in the resolution of these problems is examined in the context of the common law, statute, professional rules of conduct and diverse theoretical approaches to legal ethics. The lawyer's relationships with their client, the court and other legal practitioners as well as with the general public are strengthened through development of skills such as listening, interviewing and negotiation. The unit also emphasizes continued improvements in academic writing skills, concentrating on structure, legal language and issues of academic honesty.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/enrolmentguide/academicdates/

Learning Outcomes

1. Explain how ethical principles inform and underpin the law of professional responsibility that regulates the practice of law in Australia.
2. Recognise the duties and obligations that are part of the legal practitioner's relationship with his or her client, the court, other practitioners and members of the public.
3. Apply the law of professional responsibility relevant to lawyers in Australia.
4. Critically analyse the different theoretical approaches to legal ethics and apply this analysis to the resolution of ethical problems.

5. Demonstrate advanced communication skills required for ethical practice, especially listening skills, interviewing skills, cross cultural communication skills and negotiation skills.

6. Apply mature and considered approaches to written communication including plain English principles and legal citation methods.

Tutorial participation

Due: Ongoing
Weighting: 20%

Active participation

This unit works best when all students attend and give the entire group the benefit of their views based upon the readings and their experience.

Active participation will be assessed based on online participation in discussion forums and face to face participation in tutorials and the on campus session.

All students are expected to post in at least six weeks of the online iLearn discussion forums.

Specific readings and exercises will be set for each tutorial. The tutorial program is set out on iLearn in a weekly format.

A program for the on campus sessions will be posted on iLearn. All external students are required to attend the sessions on the 12th and 13th April. There is an optional session on 22nd May.

Students are required to participate in the tutorial role plays, online and face to face discussions, debates, reflective exercises and other activities. Tutors will engage in ongoing assessment of student participation. A rubric will be provided on iLearn.

From time to time, tutors will collect examples of student work completed in tutorials.
If you cannot attend a tutorial you must send a message on iLearn to your tutor to inform them of your absence. Extended absences from tutorials must meet the criteria for Disruption to Studies and be approved by the Unit Convenor. Applications for Disruption to Studies are made online at ask.mq.edu.au

Tutors will raise any concerns about poor participation with the student involved. Students will be given an opportunity to submit remedial work where there are concerns about participation or unexplained absences.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Explain how ethical principles inform and underpin the law of professional responsibility that regulates the practice of law in Australia.
• Recognise the duties and obligations that are part of the legal practitioner’s relationship with his or her client, the court, other practitioners and members of the public.
• Apply the law of professional responsibility relevant to lawyers in Australia
• Critically analyse the different theoretical approaches to legal ethics and apply this analysis to the resolution of ethical problems.
• Demonstrate advanced communication skills required for ethical practice, especially listening skills, interviewing skills, cross cultural communication skills and negotiation skills.
• Apply mature and considered approaches to written communication including plain English principles and legal citation methods

Reflective writing
Due: see description for dates
Weighting: 10%

This assessment is designed to encourage students to reflect on what they have learnt in the Unit. Guidance will be provided about what we are looking for in your entries and you will have a chance to write and grade a practice reflection in class or online. Your reflections will be submitted electronically via Turnitin and marked electronically. Your reflections must include references to scholarly sources outside of the textbook materials. Students must apply the principles of plain English in their writing.

You must submit reflective writing in 2 parts:

Due by 8pm on Friday 8th April (10%) and includes reflections on Weeks 1 – 6, 1000 words maximum

The word limits will be strictly applied and any work beyond the word limit will not be marked. The word count does not include footnotes. There is to be no substantive content in your footnotes.

Reflections are to be submitted in Word format, not pdf files.
Papers should be typed in a font of at least size 12 with line spacing of at least 1.5. Reflective writing should be fully referenced according to the Australian Guide to Legal Citation (3rd edition). All work should comply with the Policies and Procedures outlined in this Unit Guide.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Explain how ethical principles inform and underpin the law of professional responsibility that regulates the practice of law in Australia.
- Recognise the duties and obligations that are part of the legal practitioner’s relationship with his or her client, the court, other practitioners and members of the public.
- Apply the law of professional responsibility relevant to lawyers in Australia.
- Critically analyse the different theoretical approaches to legal ethics and apply this analysis to the resolution of ethical problems.
- Apply mature and considered approaches to written communication including plain English principles and legal citation methods.

Essay

Due: Friday 20th May 8pm
Weighting: 40%

In this paper students will be asked to provide a response to a question of legal ethics. Students will be required to be familiar with a variety of models of applied legal ethics in order to justify their ethical decision making choices.

Student responses are expected to be well researched and to critically reflect upon and analyse both the law and theory of professional responsibility for lawyers.

Students will also be assessed on their written communication skills, particularly their ability to write in plain English.

The maximum word count for this assessment is 2500 words.

Assessments will be submitted online via Turnitin and must comply with the Macquarie University Policy on Academic Honesty and the Macquarie Law School Assessment policy.

The complete question will be released on iLearn.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Explain how ethical principles inform and underpin the law of professional responsibility that regulates the practice of law in Australia.
- Recognise the duties and obligations that are part of the legal practitioner’s relationship with his or her client, the court, other practitioners and members of the public.
- Apply the law of professional responsibility relevant to lawyers in Australia.
• Critically analyse the different theoretical approaches to legal ethics and apply this analysis to the resolution of ethical problems.
• Apply mature and considered approaches to written communication including plain English principles and legal citation methods

Exam
Due: Friday 17th June 8pm
Weighting: 30%

This online examination is a time limited multiple choice exam - 30 questions worth 30%
The exam will be released at 4pm and is due at 8pm on Friday 17th June.
Students will have one hour to complete the exam. The timer will commence when a student opens the quiz. At the end of one hour, the quiz will close down and all the answers that have been completed will be automatically submitted.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
• Recognise the duties and obligations that are part of the legal practitioner’s relationship with his or her client, the court, other practitioners and members of the public.
• Apply the law of professional responsibility relevant to lawyers in Australia
• Critically analyse the different theoretical approaches to legal ethics and apply this analysis to the resolution of ethical problems.

Delivery and Resources
There are no "live" lectures for this unit. This unit is delivered in two ways:

1) via online learning content that includes recorded lecture material, readings, quizzes, discussions and links to external resources such as videos and blogs

2) a weekly seminar for internal students/ a compulsory two day on campus session and optional one day on campus session for external students.

Additional reading will be available via iLearn and e-researve.

Students require access to a computer and a secure and reliable server. All Unit requirements and a weekly teaching schedule are outlined in iLearn.

All assessments are to be submitted electronically via Turnitin.
Unit Schedule
The weekly schedule is outlined in the iLearn site for this unit

Policies and Procedures
Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

Disruption to Studies Policy: http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/policy.html The Disruption to Studies Policy is effective from March 3 2014 and replaces the Special Consideration Policy.

In addition, a number of other policies can be found in the Learning and Teaching Category of Policy Central.

Student Code of Conduct
Macquarie University students have a responsibility to be familiar with the Student Code of Conduct: https://students.mq.edu.au/support/student_conduct/

Results
Results shown in iLearn, or released directly by your Unit Convenor, are not confirmed as they are subject to final approval by the University. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent. For more information visit ask.mq.edu.au.

Additional Macquarie Law School policy on assessment
In the absence of a successful application for special consideration, any assessment task submitted after its published deadline will not be graded and will receive a mark of zero.

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked. Footnotes are only to be used for referencing. Substantive material in footnotes will not be marked.

All assessments in the unit are to be submitted electronically. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.
