Unit description

This unit aims at cultivating fundamental and practical skills in translation (mainly English to Japanese) and writing in Japanese. It focuses on the application of already acquired knowledge of grammar in practical and authentic writing, and translation tasks. This unit aims to expand students' vocabulary, ability to accurately and appropriately use common phrases, and examines Japanese logic structure, textual coherence and the use of rhetoric. This unit offers skill-based language training. A significant portion of assessment is based on regular practical assignments.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

To develop the knowledge and skills to use an expanded range of vocabulary, grammar and scripts (e.g., particles, kanji) according to genre.

To acquire an intermediate level of proficiency in Japanese writing including accurate and effective use of topic sentences, supporting sentences, conjunctions and formal structure in paragraphs.

To acquire an intermediate level of proficiency in translation.

To develop skills to write short texts in Japanese clearly and accurately on topics introduced during classes.

To develop skills to write learner-navigated texts in response to the real life prompts.

General Assessment Information

Late Submissions, Extensions and Supplementary Tests

Assessment tasks are compulsory and must be submitted on time. If you anticipate unavoidable difficulty in completing an assessment task (in class and/or online), contact the convener or your tutor as soon as possible.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Special Consideration

If a student is prevented by serious and unavoidable disruption from completing unit requirements in accordance with their ability, they may apply for support under the Special Consideration Policy. To access this support, students must notify the university via ask.mq.edu.au. Students should refer to the Policy for further information (see the link provided in the 'Policies and procedures' section of this unit guide).

Examples of Assessment Tasks

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available in class and/or iLearn.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To acquire an intermediate level of proficiency in Japanese writing including accurate and effective use of topic sentences, supporting sentences, conjunctions and formal structure in paragraphs.

- To acquire an intermediate level of proficiency in translation.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- To develop skills to write learner-navigated texts in response to the real life prompts.
