Unit description This unit is designed to develop skills in all areas of Japanese language (reading, writing, listening and speaking) to an advanced level of proficiency. Students learn to discuss a wider range of topics as well as substantially increase their knowledge of vocabulary and kanji. This unit also focuses on further increasing students' skills in intercultural communication so that they will be able to communicate in a manner which is culturally as well as linguistically appropriate. Interactive tutorials and the use of online resources provide students with opportunities to use Japanese as much as possible.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.

Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.

Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.

Spoken Interaction: interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity, discussing familiar topics clearly, expressing personal opinions, using appropriate styles and a wide range of effective expressions.

Spoken Production: give clear, detailed descriptions and presentations on familiar topics, expanding and supporting ideas with subsidiary points and relevant examples.

General Assessment Information

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available on iLearn.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Unit participation	15%	No	Weekly
Homework	25%	No	Weekly
Test 1	20%	No	Week 8
Test 2	30%	No	Week 12
Presentation	10%	No	Week 13

Unit participation

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 15%

This task requires you to actively participate in all activities (both online and in-class, where applicable), including Nazonazo game. For internal students, this includes active participation in both seminars by answering questions, engaging with activities, and working well with your fellow classmates. For external students, this includes engaging in the required weekly online discussions and/or practice exercises.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.
- Spoken Interaction: interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity, discussing familiar topics clearly, expressing personal opinions, using appropriate styles and a wide range of effective expressions.
- Spoken Production: give clear, detailed descriptions and presentations on familiar topics, expanding and supporting ideas with subsidiary points and relevant examples.

Homework

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 25%

This task requires you to complete an online quiz, a listening quiz and a short composition each week. Instructions and some sample questions will be provided in iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.

Test 1

Due: Week 8

Weighting: 20%

Test 1 is a comprehensive test of reading, writing and listening skills, covering the content of Weeks 1-7. This is a hand-written test, conducted in Seminar 2 for internal students and online for external students. You will NOT be allowed to consult ANY resources during the test. Instructions and some sample questions will be provided in iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.

Test 2

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 30%

Test 2 is a comprehensive test of reading and writing skills, covering the content of Weeks 1-11. Internal students will be required to bring their own computer for this test (in Seminar 2). External students will be required to complete it online, as instructed. You will NOT be allowed to consult ANY resources during the test. Instructions and some sample questions will be provided in Seminar 1 in Week 12.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.

Presentation

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 10%

This task requires you to give a short presentation in Japanese to discuss one of the characteristics of the Japanese language, which makes it difficult for foreigners to acquire a high level of Japanese language proficiency. The presentations will be conducted in Seminar 2 and peer-reviewed. Instruction and marking criteria will be provided in iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed descriptive and creative texts in various styles on unfamiliar and/or increasingly complex topics, synthesising information from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of vocabulary and kanji.
- Spoken Interaction: interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity, discussing familiar topics clearly, expressing personal opinions, using appropriate styles and a wide range of effective expressions.
- Spoken Production: give clear, detailed descriptions and presentations on familiar topics, expanding and supporting ideas with subsidiary points and relevant examples.

Delivery and Resources

Required and recommend texts and/or materials

No textbook is required for this unit.

The JPS301 Seminars 1 and 2 slides, Workbook and other materials will be provided in iLearn. Students will be required to download and print out the Workbook Exercises and Homework.

Completion of assessment tasks will also require a computer with Japanese fonts enabled. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing in Japanese and English are required.

A printer/scanner is also required.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and creative texts on unfamiliar topics (e.g., reports, stories) independently and strategically; identify and extract information from various appropriate sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
