Unit description

This distance education course offers exposure to the different genres of Polish literature set within their literary, cultural and historical contexts. The unit explores the various forms, formal features, key themes, diversity of writing styles and models of thought relevant to poetry and narrative genres to encourage an informed reading of different text types, and to establish a sense of how the texts are socially and culturally constructed, and how an interpretation is guided by the genre-specific literary and linguistic features

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Construct meaning in various literary forms.

Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.

Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.

Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.

Demonstrate library and information retrieval skills.

Demonstrate self-organization and time management.

General Assessment Information

Specific instructions, detailed grading standards (such as rubrics) and indicative examples of assessment tasks are provided in the iLearn unit.

Please note that all assessment due dates and times are based on Australian Eastern Standard Time (AEST).

Assessing Active Participation

There are no on-campus sessions. Active participation is assessed by a student's engagement in activities such as discussions facilitated by the lecturer/tutor, contributions to online discussion forums, or general questions asked during lectures or tutorials and involvement in set activities.

Active tutorial preparation and participation is compulsory, and is a prerequisite for earning the tutorial preparation and participation mark. Active participation in the tutorial Zoom sessions, showing significant preparation beforehand, is necessary to earn a good mark. Specific instructions and the marking criteria are available on iLearn. For students unable to participate in Zoom tutorials, alternative activities will be required to be undertaken.

Students who experience difficulties or have any questions concerning the course should contact the unit convenor for guidance either by email or in person during the unit consultation hour or by appointment.

Electronic submission

Unless otherwise approved, all text-based assessment tasks will be submitted electronically using the University's electronic learning management system.

Use of plagiarism detection software

Text-based work submitted by students for assessment will be subject to plagiarism detection software, such as Turnitin or similar approved software, unless otherwise approved.

Plagiarism detection methods are to be used on a routine basis to check student work or when plagiarism is suspected.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Special Consideration Policy

All assessment tasks are compulsory and must be submitted on time. Students unable to meet due dates must apply for 'Special Consideration' via ask.mq.edu.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

The on-line component includes: Important information about assignments, Residential School and Polish Educational Scholarship Forms.

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: <http://help.ilearn.mq.edu.au/unitsonline/> to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required. If applicable, students are required to download the relevant language package prior to Week 2.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.

* Questions to consider while reading and in preparation for tutorials are available under each week on iLearn.

It is assumed that all students enrolling for this course have already completed all the Polish Studies units and/or have a sufficient command of Polish to read the literary texts in the language of their original production. In this course students will be working on the set texts doing research on the authors and their writings. It is important that students work systematically through the set texts in the order outlined above.

Please note that there will be weekly Zoom tutorials every Wednesday at 6pm for a maximum 90 minutes starting in Week 1 and running through to Week 13 excluding the mid-semester break.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.
- Demonstrate library and information retrieval skills.
- Demonstrate self-organization and time management.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.
- Demonstrate library and information retrieval skills.
- Demonstrate self-organization and time management.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.
- Demonstrate library and information retrieval skills.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay
- Participation

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Construct meaning in various literary forms.
- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Translate narrative prose, taking into consideration the text's generic conventions and mode of representation.
- Critically reflect on one's own translation processes.

Assessment tasks

- Literary translation
- Critical analysis
- Essay

- Participation

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate skills in critical analysis, research, and effective communication.
- Demonstrate self-organization and time management.
