Unit description

This unit equips managers with the skills and tools to construct, analyse, interpret and act upon the accounting and financial information produced within a business. This discussion and analysis begins with the three financial statements targeted at external users: the Profit and Loss Statement, the Balance Sheet, and the Statement of Cash Flows. The unit then proceeds into the analysis, interpretation, and the use of management accounting information for the purpose of managerial decision making. Real life complexities in the decision making process are highlighted.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Interpret and synthesise financial information from a range of sources, using appropriate financial tools to better predict problems and opportunities and develop responsible and appropriate strategies for dealing with them.

Evaluate and take into consideration diverse corporate practices, industries, regulations and other country-specific factors that may impact on an entity's financial decision-making and outcomes.

Uphold and apply ethical accounting practices (such as triple bottom line reporting) to present a true and fair view of the performance of an entity and encourage ethical, social and environmental accountability.

Analyse and interpret external and internal accounting information make better informed business decisions that seek to maximise value for all stakeholders.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Mid-Semester Examination	20%	No	30 April 2019
Syndicate Project	30%	No	4 June 2019
Final Examination	50%	No	Exam week: 10 - 15 June 2019

Mid-Semester Examination

Due: 30 April 2019

Weighting: 20%

Duration: The midterm examination is of one (1) hour plus five (5) minutes reading time.

Format: Multiple choice questions, closed book.

Feedback will be provided within two weeks of the test.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate and take into consideration diverse corporate practices, industries, regulations and other country-specific factors that may impact on an entity's financial decision-making and outcomes.

Syndicate Project

Due: 4 June 2019

Weighting: 30%

Syndicate Report (15%)

The syndicate report should compare and contrast the historical (for the last 5 years) and expected future performance for a company and a competitor in a similar line of business. The syndicate report should be comprised of two parts, a qualitative part and a quantitative part. These two parts do NOT need to be in their own distinctive sections, and it is up to the syndicate to structure the report in a way that makes logical sense. 5,000 word limit. The report is to be submitted electronically via iLearn. Feedback will be provided within two weeks of submission.

Within the qualitative area, your discussion should include (but does not have to be limited to):

- BRIEF background information on the two companies including how they are placed within the industry.
- The syndicate may also include a BRIEF overview of the recent stock price movements for these two companies.
- Industry trends and how well each company is placed to face these trends given their strategic outlook.
- General local and global economic conditions and its expected impact on these two companies (if any).
- The syndicate may wish to supplement this with any additional information available. For example, the syndicate may also use common tools encountered during studies at MGSM or during employment (e.g. SWOT), provided it does not make them a disproportional part of the report.

Within the quantitative area, the syndicate should:

- Begin with an analysis of trends in items contained in profit and loss statements, balance sheets, and statement of cash flows. As a part of this analysis, the syndicate should also use appropriate ratios under the general areas of: profitability, liquidity, working capital management, leverage and financial risk.
- Be smart about using ratios. e.g. Don't use 5 ratios that tell the same story.
- Highlight the most important change within these ratios and try to identify reasons for these changes.
- Compare the quantitative analysis for the two companies and identify reasons for any differences in numbers or trends.

Individual Report (15%)

Based on the qualitative and quantitative analysis, each member individually should make a recommendation. There are three possible recommendations you can make:

1. Invest in the company
2. Invest in the competitor
3. Or, for whatever reason, invest in neither

You should also comment on the relative strengths and weaknesses of your entire analysis (inclusive of the syndicate report). Your discussion should focus on what the analysis has accomplished and what are the limitations. The report is to be submitted electronically via iLearn.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved.

Learning outcomes from group project

By the end of this project, students will have achieved the following learning outcomes:

1. Students would have the ability to analyse, contrast, and discuss the historical performance of businesses from a number of perspectives, using various tools and techniques.
2. Students would have the ability to discuss the qualitative aspects of businesses and the general industry/economic environment, and how these may impact future business performance. These qualitative aspects may include (but is not limited to) the quality of longer term business strategies (in light of the industry/economic environment), shorter term business plans, and the agility of the businesses in a changing business environment.
3. Students would also develop writing skills appropriate in a high quality business report.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Interpret and synthesise financial information from a range of sources, using appropriate financial tools to better predict problems and opportunities and develop responsible and appropriate strategies for dealing with them.
- Evaluate and take into consideration diverse corporate practices, industries, regulations and other country-specific factors that may impact on an entity's financial decision-making and outcomes.
- Analyse and interpret external and internal accounting information make better informed business decisions that seek to maximise value for all stakeholders.

Final Examination

Due: Exam week: 10 - 15 June 2019

Weighting: 50%

The final examination is of three (3) hours plus ten (10) minutes reading time.

The exam format will be open-book, and may consist of a combination of short answer, practical or essay style questions. More details on the exam will be provided in class. The final exam will cover content from:

- Materials presented in-class
- Textbook, unit notes, and other readings

- Exercises and in-class discussions

You are expected to present yourself for examination at the time and place designated in the MGSM Examination Timetable. The timetable will be available at <https://students.mgsm.edu.au/sydney-students/units/exams/>

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Uphold and apply ethical accounting practices (such as triple bottom line reporting) to present a true and fair view of the performance of an entity and encourage ethical, social and environmental accountability.

Changes from Previous Offering

No changes from previous offering

Alignment with MGSM's mission-driven attributes and graduate capabilities

MISSION-DRIVEN ATTRIBUTES

- Leadership: Interpret and synthesise financial information from a range of sources in order to better predict problems and opportunities and develop appropriate strategies for dealing with them.
- Global mindset: This unit will emphasise the decision making process in a global economic context. Students are encouraged to be mindful of differences in company practices, industries, laws, and country specific factors that may influence decision outcomes.
- Citizenship: Recognise the discretion available to managers when applying accounting models and apply ethical accounting practices in order to present a true and fair view of the performance of an entity.

- Creating sustainable value: Appropriately analyse and interpret external and internal accounting information in order to make better informed business decisions that seek to maximise value for all stakeholders.

GRADUATE CAPABILITIES

- Discipline knowledge and skills: Students prepare a set of accounts and learn the role of these accounts in the management of a business (interpreting financial accounts to determine the status and outlook for a business).
- Critical, analytical and integrative thinking: Students interpret audited financial accounts contained within 'ASX listed firms' Annual Reports and critique and compare performance based on analysis of a wide range of business factors.
- Research and problem solving: Students will be able to undertake competitive benchmarking, identify tools of analysis and apply them to solve problems in differing scenarios.
- Effective communication: Familiarisation with financial analysis tools will enable students to communicate effectively on technical financial interpretation and the briefing of colleagues.
- Engaged and responsible, active and ethical citizens: Students will develop good ethical corporate citizen practice through financial knowledge and an awareness of the range of stakeholders involved in any business and their different needs.

Attendance Policy (MGSM)

The interactive environment of the classroom is central to the MGSM experience. Students are required to attend the full duration of all classes for the units in which they are enrolled. We recognise that exceptional circumstances may occur, such as unavoidable travel on behalf of your organization or the serious illness or injury of you or a close family member.

Special consideration may be given for a maximum of 20% non-attendance for such circumstances as long as lecturers are contacted in advance, and supporting documentation provided, to request exemption from attendance. Failure to abide by these conditions may result in automatic withdrawal, with academic and/or financial penalty. The full Student Attendance Policy is published in the MGSM Student Handbook at <https://students.mgsm.edu.au/handbook>
