General Information

Unit convenor and teaching staff Ray Laurence ray.laurence@mq.edu.au
Credit points 3
Prerequisites 39cp at 100 level or above or (6cp in AHIS or AHST units at 200 level)
Corequisites
Co-badged status
Unit description This unit is a study of Roman political and institutional history from the murder of Julius Caesar (44 B.C.) to the First Tetrarchy (A.D. 284-305). We will examine the lives and policies of Roman emperors, as well as the impact of the Roman state on the provinces. The unit will involve study of literary, numismatic, epigraphic, and archaeological evidence.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- Research and critically analyze the literary, archaeological, and documentary sources for Roman imperial history
- Research and critically analyze modern scholarship on Roman imperial history
- Communicate the results of outcomes 1 and 2 in group discussion
- Communicate the results of outcome 1 and 2 in written assignments and the final examination

General Assessment Information

Tutorial Attendance and Participation

Students are expected to prepare for, attend, and participate actively in all tutorials in the course. Tutorial participation is worth 10%. If a student must be absent from tutorials for health or other reasons, they must complete a Special Consideration application.

Submission of Written Assignments

The Coin Assignment (10%) and Research Essay (40%) must be submitted through TurnItIn via the iLearn unit portal.

Length of Written Assignments

The word length for assignments includes quotations, references, and footnotes, but not the bibliography. The length must be within 10% (plus or minus) of the specified word count.

Late Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Important note on Final Marks

Please note with respect to the marks you receive for work during the session: that the marks given are indicative only; final marks will be determined after moderation. See further the note on Results in the Policies and Procedures section below.

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Research and critically analyze the literary, archaeological, and documentary sources for Roman imperial history
- Research and critically analyze modern scholarship on Roman imperial history

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Roman Coin Assignment
- Research Essay
- Final Examination

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Research and critically analyze the literary, archaeological, and documentary sources for Roman imperial history
- Research and critically analyze modern scholarship on Roman imperial history
- Communicate the results of outcomes 1 and 2 in group discussion
- Communicate the results of outcome 1 and 2 in written assignments and the final examination

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Roman Coin Assignment
- Research Essay
- Final Examination

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Research and critically analyze the literary, archaeological, and documentary sources for Roman imperial history

- Research and critically analyze modern scholarship on Roman imperial history

Assessment tasks

- Roman Coin Assignment
- Research Essay
- Final Examination

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Communicate the results of outcomes 1 and 2 in group discussion
- Communicate the results of outcome 1 and 2 in written assignments and the final examination

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Roman Coin Assignment
- Research Essay
- Final Examination
