Unit description

This unit introduces translation theories and skills and encourages their use in translation practice. Students will learn how to analyse Chinese texts in terms of their genre, style, register and potential readers of the text. Students will learn how to deliver the equivalent message in idiomatic English. Students will also become familiar with translation procedure and be able to identify and solve problems when translating from Chinese into English. This unit is for Chinese background speakers or students at an equivalent level.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories

Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts

Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation

Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time

Apply inter-cultural communication skills

Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

General Assessment Information

Apart from engaging with the class each week, you are expected to spend 10 hours on your assignments and reflection on your translation.

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available on iLearn or in class.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Reflective Journal	15%	No	Week 13
Weekly Translation	40%	No	Every Monday week4 to week11
Presentation	15%	No	One week from Week4-13
Final Exam	20%	No	Examination period
Class Participation	10%	No	On going

Reflective Journal

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 15%

You are required to submit a 1000-word reflective journal in English by week 13. This task aims to present how you justify your translation decisions. The journal should contain problems identified, possible solutions and the decision in selecting the best solution. You are NOT allowed to use same examples used in your or your classmates' presentations, or examples analyzed in the class. Moreover, journal is a written assignments, it should cover the issues from more than one of your translation assignments, and your language skills will be taken into account in the mark of this task. This assignment should be your own original work.

Marking rubrics, indicative examples of assessment tasks and further information will be available on iLearn or in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Weekly Translation

Due: Every Monday week4 to week11

Weighting: 40%

There will be 1 weekly translation assignment (from Chinese into English) given on iLearn every week from week 3 to week 10. You are required to submit each of your translation assignment on iLearn by the due time. It is strongly suggested that you write annotations for your translation assignments, which can contribute to your in-class presentation/participation and your reflective journals (see the tasks below).

Marking rubrics, indicative examples of assessment tasks and further information will be available on iLearn or in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Presentation

Due: One week from Week4-13

Weighting: 15%

You are required to do an individual presentation in English in class. In the beginning of the semester, by the end of week 2, you will be asked to choose a translation assignment as your presentation topic on iLearn. Late submission policy will be applied if you fail to choose a translation assignment for presentation topic by the due time set on iLearn. Please check the part of late submissions of this unit guide. You are expected to share your experiences in dealing with translation problems when doing your assignments. Your oral presentation is expected to be 5 minutes long. You have to finish your presentation within the time limit or the mark will be deducted. You should be prepared that the rest of the class will raise questions. When preparing your presentation, you may wish to consider the following questions:

- 1) What are the functions of the source language texts?

- 2) What difficulties do you have in understanding the source language text?
- 3) What difficulties do you have in finding equivalent expressions in English?
- 4) What factors do you consider in finding equivalent expressions in English?
- 5) What kinds of translation strategies do you use in your translation?

After the in class presentation, you need to submit a presentation report through iLearn by the end of the week you do the presentation. The report can be the slides you used for your presentation.

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available in class from week 1. Marking rubrics will be available on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Final Exam

Due: Examination period

Weighting: 20%

There will be an examination for this unit in the examination period. During the end-semester exam, you will have 1.5 hour to translate one Chinese text into English after a 10-minute reading time. The length of the text is approximately 300-350 words. Any paper-based dictionaries are allowed for the examination.

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available on iLearn or in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Class Participation

Due: On going

Weighting: 10%

Class engagement and participation is required. Participation will be marked on class preparation, engagement and participation and performance, such as responding to questions and engagement in discussions. Students are expected to be well prepared in order to participate in class discussion – this will ensure good use of class time as well as improving the relevant learning skills. Students are provided with opportunities to reflect on their assignments and think about the translation issues encountered sharing their thoughts with their peers.

Your marks for class engagement and participation will be evaluated according to the exemplars/ criteria provided in class or in iLearn.

Marks for class participation will be determined by

- a) Whether you engage with the class regularly;
- b) How much effort you have taken to prepare for the class;
- c) How actively you participate in class discussion; and
- d) How helpful your comments are on the work of our fellow students.

Description of the behaviours evaluated for high-level student participation:

- independent engagement with online communicative activities, including discussion forum, zoom, voice thread etc., reading game/ revision/ vocab acquisition
- spontaneous contributions to discussion, expression of opinions
- evidence of preparation for class through contributing specific examples demonstrating understanding of textbook/readings/home study
- constructive collaboration with and feedback to peers
- consistent target language use
- attentive note-taking
- structured engagement with content including evidence of revision/ organization of notes/ continuous self-directed learning
- promotion of a positive learning environment, including:
  - mobile device etiquette (targeted and appropriate use for learning purposes as instructed by staff)
  - respectful treatment of peers / instructor e.g. not listening while peers are learning/ engaging with instructor
  - appropriate class behavior to foster student learning, avoiding: tardiness; leaving class without being excused; erratic behaviours disrupting the formation of a classroom community.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Delivery and Resources

Delivery:

Day, Internal,

Class work: one 2-hour seminar per week.

Times and Locations for seminars: Please consult the MQ Timetables Website:

<http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au>

Independent work: Apart from attending the class, you are expected to spend 10-12 hours each week on your assignments and reflection on your translation.

Students admitted to this course are expected to have a level of Chinese equivalent to HSC 6 Chinese for Background Speakers. We will come across readings in English as well as Chinese from time to time and students are expected to be able to read and write in good Chinese and English.

All seminars are compulsory with discussion strongly emphasizing student engagement and class discussion. To benefit the most from the course, students are required to be active, responsible participants in their own learning, and to develop independent analytical practical skills in Chinese and English language by reading and analyzing both Chinese and English sources. Students should complete assessments on time by following instructions. Students should check their iLearn unit regularly for announcements and resource information posted by the convenor. Students should check their university email account regularly. It is the responsibility of students to be aware and up to date with unit news and announcements.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

This unit will use:

iLearn

Online Unit

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: <http://help.ilearn.mq.edu.au/unitsonline/> to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required. If applicable, students are required to download the relevant language package prior to Week 2.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.

- For student quick guides on the use of iLearn go to: http://mq.edu.au/iLearn/student\_info/guides.htm

Required resources:

You will need to prepare your own paper-based dictionary(es) for the final examination. Any paper-based dictionary you find helpful in doing your translation assignments can be brought to the final exam.

Recommended:

We also expect you to develop good dictionary skills using websites like dictionary.com and rae.es. Google Translate and similar machine translation tools are not adequate dictionaries for translation as they omit context, don't give functional examples of language in use, and often provide the wrong word if the student doesn't know what they are looking for (e.g. nouns instead of verbs).

For students who do not have a sound foundation of basic grammatical knowledge we recommend, in addition to consulting MQ Learning Skills Advisers or completing MQ grammar workshops, the following text:

Swan, M, 2005. Practical English Usage, Oxford: Oxford University Press.

Here are also recommended readings if you wish to know more about translation theories:

Baker, M & Malmkjar (ed.), 1998. Routledge Encyclopaedia of Translation Studies, Routledge.

Bassnett, S, 2002. Translation Studies, New York :Routledge.

Munday, J. 2008. Introducing Translation Studies: Theories and Applications, Routledge

Paltridge, B., 2006. Discourse Analysis: An Introduction. Continuum, London.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal

- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories

- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation

- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyze Chinese texts with given contexts
- Demonstrate skills of using dictionaries and other tools in translation
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills
- Develop the ability in independent and reflective learning through assessing and responding to ideas

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time
- Apply inter-cultural communication skills

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and discuss fundamental translation theories
- Conduct Chinese-English translation within given time

Assessment tasks

- Reflective Journal
- Weekly Translation
- Presentation
- Final Exam
- Class Participation
