2 painting tests

Due: Weeks 7 & 13

Weighting: 25%

Literati painting has been regarded as an important part in the history of classical Chinese painting. It has been a long tradition that the four kinds of plants (ie. plum blossom, orchid, chrysanthemum and bamboo) and symbolic plants such as pine tree have been regarded as both symbols of four Confucian gentlemen and longevity embodying the virtues and fate of stereotyped literati.

Students are required to demonstrate the ability to appreciate this category of Chinese art tradition through water ink painting skills.

Test 1: students to paint a small section of bamboo with brush and ink on Chinese paper in week 7 within an hour. (10%)

Test 2: students to paint a full bamboo painting with brush and ink on Chinese paper in week 13 within an hour. (15%)

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To develop knowledge of Chinese art and history of Chinese art through a broad of sources and practical painting skills.
- To explore a wide range of concepts and theories of Chinese art and schools of philosophy related to Chinese art, in terms of written texts, on both concrete and abstract topics, commentaries and literary texts.

Delivery and Resources

Lectures (2 hours per week)

Tutorials (please check the timetable according to your enrolled class)

A library catalogue of relevant reference books will be posted on iLearn. Students should go to the library and read all the relevant reference books when preparing their essay after they decide their topics.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>
