Unit description

This unit is taught in English and gives a panoramic view of the history and politics of Latin America, from the Spanish conquest to contemporary issues, through a cultural studies approach. It is expected that students acquire a broad regional understanding that allows them to reflect and assess present developments taking into consideration the region's historical foundations. Students also have an opportunity to learn about the research on Latin America conducted at Macquarie to inspire and encourage them into future research projects. This unit follows a continuous assessment pattern and there is no formal final exam.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.

To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.

To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.

To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

General Assessment Information

Indicative examples of assessment tasks will be available on iLearn.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Participation	15%	No	Ongoing
Reflective learning journal	25%	No	Ongoing
Mid-term test	30%	No	Week 7
In Class Test	30%	No	Week 13

Participation

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 15%

Tutorial participation is key to the successful development of skills and goals set by this course, especially as this course encourages "team-based learning," where students discuss proposed questions in order to arrive to one, agreed-upon answer, thus learning through their discussion of options. Tutorials will explore the content and themes from the week's lecture; students will be expected to engage in critical analysis of unit readings. Special considerations due to absences need to be submitted online via <https://ask.mq.edu.au>.

If you should arrive late, it is your responsibility to ensure you are marked on the class roll and to find out what you have missed.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.

- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Reflective learning journal

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 25%

Students will write 9, 250-word reflective entries throughout the semester critically approaching a key point they have learnt each week (this excludes weeks 1, 7, 9 and 13). The highest 8 marks of those 9 will be counted toward the overall mark of this assessment. Students must demonstrate they have examined their proposition (point) at hand, together with its social, historical, and/or political implications. These entries are not summaries but rather reflections upon the material learnt, in order to promote deep learning. Key points must match the material discussed that week. Students gain 1 full point for timely weekly completion of their reflective learning journal, thus it cannot be turned in late due to the progressive nature of the task. Please consult further instructions on ILearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Mid-term test

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 30%

1 hour in-class test on all topics weeks 1-7.

The test is a combination of auto-graded, multiple choice, matching, and similar questions, together with a set of open-ended, brief essay-like questions that require a critical analysis of the material studied.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.

- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

In Class Test

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 30%

1 hour in-class test on all topics weeks 8-13.

The test is a combination of auto-graded, multiple choice, matching, and similar questions, together with a set of open-ended, brief essay-like questions that require a critical analysis of the material studied.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: <http://help.ilearn.mq.edu.au/unitsonline/> to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required. If applicable, students are required to download the relevant language package prior to Week 2.

Students are required to bring a laptop to complete their midterm and final in class tests.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Assessment task

- Participation

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.

Assessment task

- Reflective learning journal

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Reflective learning journal
- Mid-term test
- In Class Test

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Reflective learning journal
- Mid-term test
- In Class Test

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To have a general knowledge of its literature, painting, music and film.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.
- To discuss with a certain degree of confidence the major topics covered in this course.

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Reflective learning journal

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To identify major historical and political events in Latin America.
- To have a general understanding of the forces that mould Latin American social, political and artistic development.

Assessment tasks

- Participation
- Reflective learning journal
- Mid-term test
- In Class Test

Changes from Previous Offering

Every year the guest lecturers for this course are encouraged to update the readings students are provided with. This is likewise the case for the content of their lectures which is provided through power point presentations.
