Unit description
This unit comprises an external practical placement. The type of external placement experience is determined largely by APAC, who require specific experiences over the three external placement units. The experiences can be completed in any order. Placements vary in the exact experiences available to students, but can include assessing clients; applying various therapeutic interventions; and developing the professional skills of a clinical psychologist. In this unit students are still supervised closely but develop increased independence.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate reasonably developed depth and breadth of knowledge and scholarly understanding required of clinical psychologists in determining client needs and designing and implementing evidence-based interventions.

Demonstrate higher level critical thinking skills in their ability both to generate and evaluate new, professionally-oriented knowledge.

Communicate effectively across a wide range of client groups, colleagues and other professionals, using a variety of formats to function empathically within and across cultures and life stages.

Demonstrate knowledge of the legislative frameworks relevant to clinical psychologists and undertake practice according to professional standards and the Psychology Board of Australia's code of ethics.

Demonstrate the entry level capabilities required of practising clinical psychologists, along with the professional and personal skills for assessing continuous development needs.

General Assessment Information

Please refer to the Field Placement Manual for further information. Adherence to the Field Placement Manual is a requirement of the Placement. The Field Placement Manual is a live document that may be updated in line with regulatory or university changes at anytime.
