Unit description

This unit develops a conceptual framework in the understanding of modern investments. MBA students learn about the investment industry, the risk-return relation, asset allocation between risky and risk-free assets, how optimal portfolios are constructed and why they are constructed the way they are. The unit also provides insights in terms of models that explain the cross-section of stock returns, articulating and considering the market efficiency debate, differences between behavioural finance and rational expectations, bond portfolio management, and portfolio insurance techniques (i.e. hedging with derivatives). The unit concludes by examining portfolio performance measurement as the final step in the investment process.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Critically evaluate and assess how investment portfolios are constructed and their performance, using a conceptual framework for, and models that explain the structure, institutions and dynamics of modern investments

Assess and synthesise the differences between behavioural finance and rational expectations in a global investment environment.

Critically assess the impact of the ethical, social and environmental responsibilities of organisations on the construction of optimal portfolios and assessing their performance.

Critically analyse stakeholder relationships involved in the construction of portfolios that create and deliver sustainable value across complex market interrelationships

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
In Class Test	30%	No	Block 2 day tba
Individual Assignment	35%	No	10 Feb 2019 tbc
Group assignment	35%	No	10 Mar 2019 tbc

In Class Test

Due: Block 2 day tba

Weighting: 30%

Duration: To be advised

The In Class Test is a multiple choice quiz. Open book.

It will address topics covered in Block 1.

Additional information, including the date and time of the Quiz (it will be held during Block 2) will be advised in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically evaluate and assess how investment portfolios are constructed and their performance, using a conceptual framework for, and models that explain the structure, institutions and dynamics of modern investments
- Assess and synthesise the differences between behavioural finance and rational expectations in a global investment environment.
- Critically assess the impact of the ethical, social and environmental responsibilities of organisations on the construction of optimal portfolios and assessing their performance.
- Critically analyse stakeholder relationships involved in the construction of portfolios that create and deliver sustainable value across complex market interrelationships

Individual Assignment

Due: 10 Feb 2019 tbc

Weighting: 35%

Analysis of a short case study.

In response to specific questions, the submission will require quantitative analysis (financial modelling) and qualitative analysis (interpretation of results and other commentary). Marks for quantitative and qualitative questions will be equally weighted.

The case study will be released in Block 1. Students will receive a comprehensive briefing on submission expectations during Block 2. This briefing will include an indicative range of key quantitative resultants such that students will be able to verify their own financial model.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically evaluate and assess how investment portfolios are constructed and their performance, using a conceptual framework for, and models that explain the structure, institutions and dynamics of modern investments
- Assess and synthesise the differences between behavioural finance and rational expectations in a global investment environment.
- Critically assess the impact of the ethical, social and environmental responsibilities of organisations on the construction of optimal portfolios and assessing their performance.
- Critically analyse stakeholder relationships involved in the construction of portfolios that create and deliver sustainable value across complex market interrelationships

Group assignment

Due: 10 Mar 2019 tbc

Weighting: 35%

4,000 words maximum (excluding appendices). To be submitted via email to mark.stewart@mq.edu.au and in iLearn on 10 March 2019.

The syndicate assignment covers the entire unit and prerequisite courses. Please include email addresses of all syndicate group members on the title page.

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

50% of the marks for the assignment will be assessed based on individual contribution. Students will be required to complete a Self and Peer Assessment form so that the contribution of individual members in a group can be identified and assessed. Further instructions will be provided on iLearn.

Marking criteria will be made available in class.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically evaluate and assess how investment portfolios are constructed and their performance, using a conceptual framework for, and models that explain the structure, institutions and dynamics of modern investments
- Assess and synthesise the differences between behavioural finance and rational expectations in a global investment environment.
- Critically assess the impact of the ethical, social and environmental responsibilities of organisations on the construction of optimal portfolios and assessing their performance.
- Critically analyse stakeholder relationships involved in the construction of portfolios that create and deliver sustainable value across complex market interrelationships

Changes from Previous Offering

No changes from previous offering.

Alignment with MGSM's mission-driven attributes

Leadership: Develop skills required of leaders with respect to the synthesis of a wide array of economics information in order to make well-informed and financially robust strategic decisions.

Global mindset: Assessment of the implications of global activity and strategic decisions from an entity perspective, across a wide spectrum of stakeholders.

Citizenship: Apply a true and fair view approach to matters of economic policy making and implementation related to business strategies through consideration of the wider stakeholder implications which may arise from such policies and the subsequent business decisions.

Creating sustainable value: Adoption of a forward-looking perspective on the impact of decisions on the financial position and performance of the entity.

Attendance Policy (MGSM)

The interactive environment of the classroom is central to the MGSM experience. Students are required to attend the full duration of all classes for the units in which they are enrolled. We recognise that exceptional circumstances may occur, such as unavoidable travel on behalf of your organization or the serious illness or injury of you or a close family member.

Special consideration may be given for a maximum of 20% non-attendance for such circumstances as long as lecturers are contacted in advance, and supporting documentation provided, to request exemption from attendance. Failure to abide by these conditions may result in automatic withdrawal, with academic and/or financial penalty. The full Student Attendance Policy is published in the MGSM Student Handbook at <https://students.mgsm.edu.au/handbook>.
