Unit description

This unit aims to promote an understanding of diverse psychological perspectives and research findings on the practice of management. Human behaviour in the Australian workplace is analysed by comparing and contrasting five psychological perspectives: motivation, psychoanalysis, personality, psychological behaviourism and social behaviourism. Topics include personality, motivation, occupational stress, mental health and counselling. Of special relevance is an analysis of individual differences which includes a critical evaluation of the role and use of psychological tests in management.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

By the end of the unit, students should be able to:

(a) critically reflect on the psychology of management from contrasting perspectives in order better to manage, motivate and communicate effectively at the workplace;

(b) critically reflect on the ethical aspects of the practice of psychology in management;

(c) evaluate the role and use of psychological tests in management and assess whether they create sustainable value.

General Assessment Information

Marking criteria for assessments will be made available in class/iLearn

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Personal/ Group Presentation	25%	No	In-class TBA
Group Report	25%	No	6 May 2019 (by 5pm)

Personal/ Group Presentation

Due: In-class TBA

Weighting: 25%

Due: In Class – TBA

Weighting: 25%

Students will be allocated to study groups in the first session. Each group will select an influential psychologist to study and discuss in class. Each group will have up to 45 minutes to lead a class discussion. At least 15 minutes should be devoted to a question and answer period which will be conducted by the group.

Visual aids may be used to a maximum of 10 slides per group presentation.

Students will be assessed on their individual performance – content and presentation.

Each group will select an influential psychologist from the following;

Alfred Adler – Individual psychology

Aaron Beck – Cognitive psychotherapy

Eric Berne – Transactional analysis

Albert Ellis – Rational-emotive therapy

Erik Erikson – Developmental theory

Viktor Frankl – Logotherapy

Erich Fromm – Humanistic psychoanalysis

William Glasser – Reality therapy

Karen Horney – Psychosocial theory

Carl Jung – Analytical psychology

George Kelly – Personal constructs

Lawrence Kohlberg – Moral developmental theory

Arnold Lazarus – Multi-Modal behaviour therapy

Kurt Lewin – Field theory

Frederick Perls – Gestalt therapy

Carl Rogers – Person-centred therapy

Harry Stack Sullivan – Interpersonal therapy

Joseph Wolpe – Behaviour therapy

Questions to be answered in the presentation (and group report) are:

1. Why did you select this psychologist?
2. Which theoretical perspective does this psychologist endorse?
3. How have the ideas of this psychologist been applied in the community?
4. What are the strengths and weaknesses of this psychologist's perspective?
5. What can managers learn from this psychologist?

On successful completion you will be able to:

- By the end of the unit, students should be able to:

(a) critically reflect on the psychology of management from contrasting perspectives in order better to manage, motivate and communicate effectively at the workplace;

(b) critically reflect on the ethical aspects of the practice of psychology in management;

(c) evaluate the role and use of psychological tests in management and assess whether they create sustainable value.

Group Report

Due: 6 May 2019 (by 5pm)

Weighting: 25%

This is a written summary of each group's presentation after taking into consideration issues and/or criticism raised in the class discussion.

Length: 2000 words maximum

Format: Double-spaced, name of group members, and number of words in report.

To be submitted electronically at iLearn (Turnitin Plagiarism Submission)

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of total marks for the report for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- By the end of the unit, students should be able to:

(a) critically reflect on the psychology of management from contrasting perspectives in order better to manage, motivate and communicate effectively at the workplace;

(b) critically reflect on the ethical aspects of the practice of psychology in management;

(c) evaluate the role and use of psychological tests in management and assess whether they create sustainable value.

Individual Theoretical Essay

Due: 20 May 2019 (by 5pm)

Weighting: 50%

TOPIC: Select ONE essay topic from the following:

1. Does the persistence of hierarchy in work organisations arise from the fundamental necessities of social organisation, or in response to fundamental human motives?

OR

2. Many psychologists, and especially Freudian and Jungian psychoanalysts, have argued that managerial behaviour cannot be adequately explained by reference to a theory of the 'rational individual'. Assuming this to be true, how should senior managers be trained to deal with problems generated by managerial relationships?

OR

3. Evaluate H. J. Eysenck's arguments for the relationship between personality and cancer.

OR

4. If the 'behaviorism' promoted by B. F. Skinner teaches that, because of environmental conditioning no one is to blame for misbehaviour, how does one develop a sense of personal responsibility?

OR

5. Critically discuss George Herbert Mead's notions of 'I' and 'Me' and their implications for the practice of management.

OR

6. 'The madman is not the man who has lost his reason. The madman is the man who has lost everything except his reason' (G. K. Chesterton, Orthodoxy, 1909, p.32). Critically discuss this quotation with reference to the work of Thomas Szasz.

NOTE: The purpose of the theoretical essay is to provide students with the opportunity to develop and demonstrate their argumentative skills. The essay is not intended to be a descriptive account of course material or regurgitation thereof. It is intended to be an exercise in argumentation which demonstrates students' grasp of the relevant material and their ability to argue for and/or against specific aspects of it. The essay will be assessed against five equally-weighted criteria:

- Expression: spelling, punctuation, syntax; - Description: clarity, continuity, substance; - Argument: clarity, validity - Relevance: to topic; - Research: use of appropriate material.

Length: 2000 words maximum (excluding bibliography).

Format: Double-spaced, name of student, and number of words in essay.

To be submitted electronically at iLearn (Turnitin Plagiarism Submission).

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of total essay mark for each 24-hour period or part thereof that the essay is late. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- By the end of the unit, students should be able to:

(a) critically reflect on the psychology of management from contrasting perspectives in order better to manage, motivate and communicate effectively at the workplace;
.....

(b) critically reflect on the ethical aspects of the practice of psychology in management;

(c) evaluate the role and use of psychological tests in management and assess whether they create sustainable value.

Alignment of this unit with MGSM's mission-driven attributes

Leadership: The psychology of leadership is briefly discussed.

Global mindset: Cross-cultural differences are discussed.

Citizenship: The ethical implications of the practice of psychology are discussed.

Creating sustainable value: Values are analysed from various psychological perspectives.

Attendance Policy (MGSM)

The interactive environment of the classroom is central to the MGSM experience. Students are required to attend the full duration of all classes for the units in which they are enrolled. We recognise that exceptional circumstances may occur, such as unavoidable travel on behalf of your organization or the serious illness or injury of you or a close family member.

Special consideration may be given for a maximum of 20% non-attendance for such circumstances as long as lecturers are contacted in advance, and supporting documentation provided, to request exemption from attendance. Failure to abide by these conditions may result in automatic withdrawal, with academic and/or financial penalty. The full Student Attendance Policy is published in the MGSM Student Handbook at <https://students.mgsm.edu.au/handbook>
