Unit description

This unit offers students the opportunity to develop their writing across one or more genres, and to extend their skills both in the crafting and the analysis of the craft of writing. Two modules specifically cover poetry and writing for children. For students who have completed CWPG810, this unit is an opportunity to develop on the work achieved in that unit; for other students this unit offers key concepts and practices that will be extended by future study in CWPG810. Students reflect upon and interrogate their writing and writing process, explore new methods in relation to craft and technique or genre, and link this work to consideration of published creative works and contemporary narrative studies. Writing workshops and discussion of the readings are structured so that students can make productive links between concepts in narrative studies and their own writing. The unit is assessed through creative writing assignments, writing exercises and tasks, participation in weekly writing workshops, and the reading, analysis and discussion of critical and creative texts.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

GENERAL INFORMATION

Students in this unit should read the complete Unit Handbook carefully at the start of Session. It contains important information about the unit. If anything in it is unclear, please consult one of the teaching staff in the unit.

Internal students - For lecture times and classrooms please consult the MQ Timetable website. This website will display up-to-date information on your class times and classroom locations.

External students – your gateway to the unit is through the iLearn site, which will be opened before the start of Session 2.

The On-Campus Day is on Saturday August 24th at MQ, 10 - 4.30pm. External and International students are strongly advised to participate. All external, international and internal students are welcome.

Unit Schedule

Internal students - seminars start in Week 1. Log in to the unit's iLearn site. Read the Unit Handbook.

External students - log in to the unit's iLearn site in Week 1. Read the Unit Handbook.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Lectures

Lectures discussing topics, reading, concepts and writing process.

On Campus Day or Alternative Tasks

Students meet at the on campus day (external students), working in small discussion groups, undertaking workshops and in class writing. Alternative tasks engage students in local writing events and reporting back to their groups.

Weekly Group Discussions

Students discuss readings, lectures and topics through close reading, analysis and application of new vocabulary or concepts.

Weekly Writing workshops

Small group workshops, online and in class, to workshop students' creative writing in progress.

Students respond each week to their peers' writing (1-3 submissions each week) or receive feedback to their own writing.

Independent writing

Students develop a regular writing process during session, writing short exercises, writing for workshop of their work and for assessment.

Weekly reading

Students read weekly and engage in discussions of the set readings.
