Unit description

This unit examines contemporary and historical research practices and explores decolonising and Indigenist research methodologies. This unit also provides students with the skills and knowledge to engage in ethical research with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and communities. Students are guided by a range of documents outlining ethical research practices including, the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander research guidelines, the National Health and Medical Research Council's, Values and Ethics: Guidelines for Ethical Conduct in Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Research (Values and Ethics) and Macquarie University Ethics Approval process.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Critically consider specific texts by Indigenous Australian people in the light of the above understandings.

ULO2: Justify your role as an Indigenous or non-Indigenous researcher or practitioner undertaking research or work with Indigenous communities.

ULO3: Explain the principles of a range of Indigenous Research Methodologies appropriate for application in research with Indigenous peoples.

ULO4: Apply appropriate Indigenous Studies theoretical frameworks to resolve a range of ethical problems in Indigenous research.

ULO5: Critically reflect on current issues in Indigenous affairs and develop a proposal for small research project to address the problem.

ULO6: Interpret and communicate the principles of current Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies guidelines to Indigenous community and professional audiences.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Research Proposal	40%	No	9th November 2020
Tutorial Activities	30%	No	Weekly
Review Essay	30%	No	28th September 2020

Research Proposal

Assessment Type ¹: Project

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: 9th November 2020

Weighting: 40%

This assessment task requires you to develop a research proposal. You will draw on your background research in the previous two assessment tasks.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Justify your role as an Indigenous or non-Indigenous researcher or practitioner undertaking research or work with Indigenous communities.
- Apply appropriate Indigenous Studies theoretical frameworks to resolve a range of ethical problems in Indigenous research.
- Critically reflect on current issues in Indigenous affairs and develop a proposal for small research project to address the problem.
- Interpret and communicate the principles of current Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies guidelines to Indigenous community and professional audiences.

Tutorial Activities

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 26 hours

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 30%

Active participation in weekly online tutorial activities. These will be available on a weekly basis on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically consider specific texts by Indigenous Australian people in the light of the above understandings.
- Explain the principles of a range of Indigenous Research Methodologies appropriate for application in research with Indigenous peoples.
- Apply appropriate Indigenous Studies theoretical frameworks to resolve a range of ethical problems in Indigenous research.
- Critically reflect on current issues in Indigenous affairs and develop a proposal for small research project to address the problem.

Review Essay

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 20 hours

Due: 28th September 2020

Weighting: 30%

In this task you will select one Indigenous research methods text from a list provided. You will be required to do a short presentation in class and submit a written review.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically consider specific texts by Indigenous Australian people in the light of the above understandings.
- Explain the principles of a range of Indigenous Research Methodologies appropriate for application in research with Indigenous peoples.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Protocols for Indigenous Studies

In Australia there are two distinct Indigenous peoples: Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islander people.

When writing about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders do not use the acronym 'ATSI', write in full. Capital letters should always be used when referring to Aboriginal peoples and or Torres Strait Islander peoples.

While Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander are acceptable terms to use, it should be recognised that these are collective terms and often used improperly to impose a single identity on the many different communities.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people generally prefer to be known by the language/cultural groups or communities, to which they belong, that is, own names rather than terms such as 'the Aboriginals' or 'the Islanders'. For example, Aboriginal people in the area surrounding Macquarie University may refer to themselves as Dharug. It is important that you always check the correct name or terms to use for people in the area/region.

The use of incorrect, inappropriate or dated terminology is to be avoided as it can give offence. Many historical terms or those in common usage some years ago are now not acceptable, including terms such as 'aborigine' 'native', 'savage' and 'primitive'. Similarly, do not use the terms 'half-caste', 'part-Aborigine/Aboriginal' or any reference to skin colour or physical features, as they do not signify that a person is Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander and may cause offence. When quoting from academic or other sources that uses inappropriate, dated terminology or racists language, use (sic) directly after the inappropriate term or phrase, thus calling attention to the fact that it has been sourced from the original and that you understand it to be outdated, inappropriate or problematic in the contemporary context.
