Unit description

Apart from being hugely entertaining, what does being popular mean? Cultural perceptions of what makes literature popular, rather than elite, serious or academic, constantly shift in response to changing historical circumstances. This unit looks at a wide variety of popular novels and short stories from different genres and different historical periods: Gothic novels, crime and detective fiction, romance, and fantasy. This unit will explore how such texts differ from and challenge their “respectable” counterparts, and consider issues of production, reception, audience engagement and fandom.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the historical development of concepts of popular fiction.

ULO2: Articulate links between literary texts and their cultural contexts.

ULO3: Exhibit skills in close textual analysis.

ULO4: Communicate arguments about literature, culture and aesthetic ideas in oral and written forms whilst engaging with other points of view.

ULO5: Deploy research skills in order to support arguments about literary texts.

Assessment Tasks

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Assessment details are no longer provided here as a result of changes due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic.

Students should consult iLearn for revised unit information.

General Assessment Information

PARTICIPATORY TASK

Meaningful participation in tutorials is compulsory, and is a prerequisite for both fulfilling the requirements of the unit and for earning the tutorial participation mark. Attendance at tutorials is only a prerequisite for the tutorial mark; active participation, showing significant preparation beforehand, is necessary to earn a good mark. In other words, just because you turn up to 12 tutorials or leave brief comments in the OUA discussion forum does not automatically guarantee you full marks. You will also be graded on whether you have completed and understood the readings, and whether you contribute to the discussions in class or online.

At the end of Weeks 7 and 12, you must upload into Turnitin a single document (Word, pdf, or another file) documenting the notes you have taken to prepare for your class or online tutorial. Your participation mark will then be evaluated according to the following rubric, and a single mark and grade awarded for your participation during the period in question.

Category	Fail	Pass	Credit	Distinction	High Distinction

Preparation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Has completed weekly reading Has listened to the lecture Evidence of reading and considering discussion questions set out in Unit Handbook or iLearn site 	Student is almost never prepared with reading and is evidently not familiar with the lecture, the text or discussion topics	Student is rarely prepared with the reading (i.e. often has not completed reading the set text), and shows signs of not being familiar with the lecture, the text or discussion topics	Student is usually prepared with the reading (i.e. has usually completed reading the set text), and shows signs of familiarity with the lecture, the text and the discussion topics	Student is almost always prepared with the reading (i.e. has almost always completed reading the set text), almost always shows signs of familiarity with the lecture, text and discussion topics	Student has always completed the reading, always shows signs of familiarity with the lecture, text and discussion topics

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS

Details about the Case Study Analysis and the Research Essay are available on the ENGL/ENGX3030 iLearn site.

Assignment submission

- Please read The Preparation and Presentation of Essays on the iLearn site.
- Students are required to submit their written work electronically only, via the Turnitin link in the unit's iLearn site. Note that your essay will not be marked unless it has been submitted via Turnitin in the unit's iLearn site. Do not send essays via email.
- Return of marked work and feedback will be via the unit's iLearn site.

Special Consideration and Late Submission of Assignments

If you have a legitimate reason for being unable to submit your work on time, for which you can provide documentation, you will need to complete a Special Consideration request (which must be submitted at www.ask.mq.edu.au within 5 working days of the commencement of the disruption): <https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved: (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and; (b) assignments submitted more than seven (7) days (including weekends) after the original submission deadline will receive a mark of zero (0%). No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests. (This calculation assumes that the assignment is marked out of 100: e.g., if an assignment were awarded 74% and is submitted 3 days late, a mark of $[74-6] = 68\%$ would be recorded.)

Assessment Criteria Used in Marking Written Work

- Completion of the task in accordance with the instructions provided
- Interpretation of the question
- Understanding of key concepts, terms, arguments, and principles
- Independence and quality of analysis, interpretation, and argumentation
- Initiative in reading and research, and support of argument by reference to relevant published material, appropriately acknowledged
- The structure of the discussion
- The clarity and precision of written expression
- Referencing and presentation in accordance with the Style Guide, The Preparation and Presentation of Essays.

University Assessment Policy: http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/assessment/schedule_1.html

The grade a student receives will signify their overall performance in meeting the learning outcomes of a unit of study. Grades will not be awarded by reference to the achievement of other students nor allocated to fit a predetermined distribution. In determining a grade, due weight will be given to the learning outcomes and level of a unit (ie 100, 200, 300, 800 etc). Graded units will use the following grades:

HD	High Distinction	85-100
D	Distinction	75-84
Cr	Credit	65-74
P	Pass	50-64
F	Fail	0-49

Academic honesty

Academic honesty is an integral part of the core values and principles contained in the

Macquarie University Ethics Statement, whose fundamental principle is that all staff and students act with integrity in the creation, development, application and use of ideas and information, which means that:

- All academic work claimed as original is the work of the author making the claim.
- All academic collaborations are acknowledged.
- Academic work is not falsified in any way
- When the ideas of others are used, these ideas are acknowledged appropriately.

On the policy, procedure and penalties that will apply to breaches of the Academic Honesty Policy, see: http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html

Delivery and Resources

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Any references to on-campus delivery below may no longer be relevant due to COVID-19.

Please check here for updated delivery information: https://ask.mq.edu.au/account/pub/display/unit_status

Lectures: You must access 1 lecture each week, beginning in week 1.

Please consult the MQ Timetable website: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au> for updated information. Recorded lectures and slides are available in the ENGL/ENGX3030 iLearn site. (<https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/>)

Attendance at lectures or weekly attention to recorded lectures is expected. Missing lectures will reduce your opportunities for learning and probably result in poor marks across the unit. All students must attend/listen to lectures each week and write their own notes.

Tutorials: You must attend a 1-hour tutorial each week, beginning in week 1.
