Unit description

This unit explores communication as the means by which our social institutions function through discursive practices. In organisations, professions and other institutions, communication (spoken, written and multi-modal) is central to how 'things get done'. Taking an applied and socio linguistic approach, the unit introduces concepts and techniques to examine communication in a range of contexts (eg clinical interaction, workplace talk, organisational governance). By the end of the unit, students will have developed the skills not only to research and analyse the communication in institutions, organisation and professions, but also to develop their own communication skills for professional practice.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Characterise the operation of discursive practices in institutional contexts.

ULO2: Analyse spoken, written and multi-modal communication using linguistic concepts and techniques.

ULO3: Research, assess and critique institutional, organisational and/or professional communication (spoken, written and multi-modal).

ULO4: Critically reflect on and apply the concepts and techniques introduced in the unit to your own communication practices.

Delivery and Resources

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Please check here for updated delivery information: https://ask.mq.edu.au/account/pub/display/unit\_status

This unit is taught in 'flipped' classroom mode. This means that online modules incorporating video lectures, activities, readings or similar are provided via iLearn (the Macquarie University Learning Management System) for each week. In addition, students must attend an on-campus, two-hour workshop tutorial each week, in which they will discuss and put into practice the theory and concepts they have studied via the online modules and other unit materials.

Students must take responsibility for their own learning, prepare for the tutorials and make a positive contribution to the unit community.

There is no prescribed textbook for this unit.

Late assessment task submissions

- Late submissions without an extension will receive a penalty of 3% of the total mark available for the assessment task per day including weekend days (i.e. this is 3% of the total marks possible for the task – NOT 3% of the marks the student received. For example, if the assessment task is worth 100 marks and the student is two days late their mark for the task is reduced by 6 marks.)
- Late submission of an assessment task without an extension will not be accepted at all:
  - after the date on which marked assessment tasks have been released to the rest of the class the unit convenor's discretion
  - more than one week after the end of the teaching session at the unit convenor's discretion.
- Extensions will only be given in special circumstances, and can be requested by completing the Special Consideration request at ask.mq.edu.au and providing the requisite supporting documentation.
- Extensions that will result in submissions after the assessment task has been returned to the class will require a separate assessment task to be completed at the unit convenor's discretion.

- For more information on Special Consideration, see the university website <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration/>
- If a student fails the unit due to non-submission of an assessment task or non-attendance at an exam, an FA grade will be applied in accordance with the University's Assessment Policy.
- Unit convenors have the discretion to determine whether or not students should fail a unit on the basis of lateness penalties alone if other learning outcomes of the unit have been met.
