Unit description

This unit initially examines the way in which laws relating to taxation impact social and economic issues in Australia. Taxation of various kinds is the primary means by which wealth can be distributed: inequities and distortions can promote investment in specific economic activities, encourage or discourage savings and lead to exploitation and avoidance by the wealthy through the use of loopholes and complex business structures. Ultimately, this affects the government's ability to provide essential social services such as health, education and housing. The second part of the unit entails a sophisticated examination of the fundamental elements of the Australian taxation system including residency, income, deductions, capital gains tax and the taxation of trusts.

General Assessment Information

Extensions and penalties.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due time – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

When a student suffers a disruption to study which is 'serious and unavoidable' they may apply for special consideration. In order to do so the student must meet the criteria under the Macquarie University "Disruption to Studies" policy and be approved by the Unit Convenor.

Applications are made online at ask.mq.edu.au. Outcomes for recognized serious and unavoidable disruptions to studies are as set out in the University schedule - http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption\_studies/schedule\_outcomes.html

Weekly tutorial questions

Students are provided on iLearn with a weekly document containing readings for the topic being covered and up to 4 questions. Every week each student prepares a brief written attempt at answering all of the week's questions in a maximum of 600 words. Answers are submitted weekly online by 5pm on Thursday using the Turnitin portals.

Marks are assigned as below:

1. There are 12 weeks of tutorial questions. One mark is assigned for the written work which is a satisfactory attempt at answering all the questions for that week, that is showing evidence of study and understanding of the topic, but not necessarily fully correct. A maximum of 10 marks total for the semester can be earned in this way – i.e. 10 satisfactory hand-ins.
2. There are another 10 marks for participation at the intensive on campus session. Details are provided on iLearn.

Academic Honesty

The nature of scholarly endeavour, dependent as it is on the work of others, binds all members of the University community to abide by the principles of academic honesty. Its fundamental principle is that all staff and students act with integrity in the creation, development, application and use of ideas and information. This means that:

- all academic work claimed as original is the work of the author making the claim
- all academic collaborations are acknowledged
- academic work is not falsified in any way
- when the ideas of others are used, these ideas are acknowledged appropriately.
