Unit description

This unit aims to build students' broad and fundamental appreciation of the diversity, hybridity, positioning and interaction of Asian countries in the globe. It facilitates an understanding of the increasingly relevant and influential role played by 21st century Asia in a global context, and builds an inter-disciplinary platform for further study of specific areas. A wide range of issues will be analyzed from political, economic, historical, and socio-cultural perspectives. With the expectation that students will come from various backgrounds, informed interaction between students is encouraged to maximise opportunities for broadening immediate, intercultural awareness of Asia, and to nurture engagement with the beliefs, values and activities of other cultures in our closely inter-related globe.
