Unit description Change, some people say, is the only constant in life. How can we make sense of it? This unit provides essential skills and knowledge that enable you to understand contemporary societies and the lives we live in them. The goal is to explore diverse areas such as work, identity, relationships, politics, diversity and the private sphere. The unit has a strong focus on practical applications and prepares students to deal with and make sense of major social developments, which shape our lives and the world we live in.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: demonstrate an understanding of a range of sociological perspectives on social life from the 19th century to the present.
- ULO2: apply key sociological concepts to the study of contemporary societies.
- ULO3: analyse a contemporary social issue using sociological theories
- ULO4: effectively communicate complex ideas in written form.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Active participation	20%	No	Ongoing
Research essay	40%	No	Week 7
Final essay	40%	No	Week 13

Active participation

Assessment Type 1: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task 2: 20 hours

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

On the basis of the provided course contents students are expected to actively engage in class discussions with each other including group work.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of a range of sociological perspectives on social life from the 19th century to the present.
- apply key sociological concepts to the study of contemporary societies.
- analyse a contemporary social issue using sociological theories
- effectively communicate complex ideas in written form.

Research essay

Assessment Type 1: Essay

Indicative Time on Task 2: 26 hours

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 40%

The aim of this assessment task is threefold: (1) to gauge your comprehension of the perspectives and concepts covered thus far; (2) to get you to think about connecting theoretical material to contemporary social issues; (3) to prepare you for your final assessment task.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of a range of sociological perspectives on social life from the 19th century to the present.
- apply key sociological concepts to the study of contemporary societies.
- analyse a contemporary social issue using sociological theories

- effectively communicate complex ideas in written form.

Final essay

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 13 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 40%

The aim of this assessment task is for you to show your ability to apply the perspectives and concepts we have discussed to a "real-life" issue.

- a) pick a sociological concept or approach from one of the weeks and define it clearly.
- b) pick and briefly describe a social issue you would like to interpret and analyse.
- c) interpret and analyse (b) with (a)

Your example can be sourced from a novel, an article, a video clip, film, etc. The most important point is relevance and a clear connection between the example and the sociological perspective you have chosen.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of a range of sociological perspectives on social life from the 19th century to the present.
- apply key sociological concepts to the study of contemporary societies.
- analyse a contemporary social issue using sociological theories
- effectively communicate complex ideas in written form.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
