Unit description
This unit examines international trade both in theory and practice. It aims to provide students with an understanding of major trade issues around the world and the effects of globalisation on international trade in general. The unit is taught in two parts. Firstly, it reviews theories related to inter- and intra-industry trade and the relevant empirical evidence. Secondly, the unit discusses trade policies, covering a wide range of topics, illustrated by theories as well as historical and contemporary data and cases.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

> ULO1: Distinguish between major trade theories and policy measures.

> ULO2: Apply trade concepts and theories to trade-related issues and evaluate their > impact on stakeholders.

ULO3: Evaluate the impact of trade-related issues with a specific focus on the trade-offs between efficiency and equity.

Delivery and Resources

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Any references to on-campus delivery below may no longer be relevant due to COVID-19.

Please check here for updated delivery information: https://ask.mq.edu.au/account/pub/display/unit_status

Each week, there will be a pre-recorded lecture posted on the unit iLearn page, along with the lecture slides. Starting in Week 2, we will also discuss questions regarding the lecture topics from the previous week. In preparation, students are required to read each week's reading material. Students will discuss these questions with their group and submit their discussion results on iLearn. Answers to these questions will be available in the following week. There may be additional readings in order to assist students in discussing these questions.

Unit iLearn

Material for the unit, such as lecture recordings and slides, will be available to students on the unit iLearn site at http://ilearn.mq.edu.au. Students are strongly encouraged to check the unit iLearn page weekly for announcements as well as the unit schedule, additional readings, assessment information, and discussion questions and answers.
