Unit description

This unit covers the social, moral and political relationships that underpin 'justice' and 'punishment'. Students will explore the purpose, aims and operation of criminal justice in New South Wales. The 'cycle of justice' is unpacked, including: concepts of justice; the politics of justice; what happens in court; how people are punished and what we expect to happen afterwards. Students re-examine the socially constructed nature of both justice and punishment, questioning the purpose of law, the rule of law and the social contract. Students will analyse the role of these concepts in maintaining, or disrupting, established notions of justice. Students will observe justice in action and report back on their findings.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- ULO2: distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- ULO3: use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- ULO4: express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- ULO5: conduct independent non-participant observations in the field, then combine theory with both primary and secondary data to write up a formal report
- ULO6: prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

General Assessment Information

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, any references to assessment tasks and on-campus delivery may no longer be up-to-date on this page.

Students should consult iLearn for revised unit information.

Find out more about the Coronavirus \(COVID-19\) and potential impacts on staff and students

Late Submission

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Reading Reflection	25%	No	See iLearn
Court Report	50%	No	See iLearn
Active Participation	10%	Yes	See iLearn
Online Quiz	15%	No	See iLearn

Reading Reflection

Assessment Type 1: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task 2: 14 hours

Due: See iLearn

Weighting: 25%

Students will submit 2 reflections during the session. Reflection is a means to separate opinions from evidence. Students will engage with deep reflection on the topics of readings and explore how they have changed from exposure to new knowledge.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

Court Report

Assessment Type 1: Report

Indicative Time on Task 2: 40 hours

Due: See iLearn

Weighting: 50%

Reports are often used as assessment tasks because well-developed report writing skills are important in many professional contexts. Reports are written based on gathering and analysing information using a discipline-specific methodology and format. This report requires students to visit court and report back on their observations. Full details and FAQs are provided in iLearn

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- conduct independent non-participant observations in the field, then combine theory with both primary and secondary data to write up a formal report
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

Active Participation

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 12 hours

Due: See iLearn

Weighting: 10%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

Students must read at least an hour for every scheduled active participation activity. Depending on enrolment method this may include: preparation by reading and note-taking, bringing required participation to tutorials, engaging in online learning activities (e.g. wiki/discussion board) Active participation (15 skill-based tasks over 13 weeks) is used in this unit with a strict marking rubric and a careful alignment of each weekly activity to the skills needed for the unit assessments.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system
- distinguish between personal opinion and scientifically verified evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format
- prepare for and engage effectively in online and classroom activities

Online Quiz

Assessment Type ¹: Quiz/Test

Indicative Time on Task ²: 2-4 hours

Due: See iLearn

Weighting: 15%

The online quiz will test basic knowledge on the course content for the first 6 weeks of the unit. Students will spend 1 hour on the quiz, plus at least 1 hour of preparation (including focused reading and online research).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- demonstrate a scholarly understanding of the criminal justice system

- use social research skills to identify, analyse and assess the quality of different data sources and types of evidence
- express key concepts clearly and accurately in both spoken and written format

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, references to assessment tasks and on-campus delivery may no longer be up-to-date on this page.

Students should consult iLearn for revised unit information. .

As of 20/07/2020 this unit is intended to be delivered in two modes of enrollment. These are:

1. INTERNAL. This mode of enrolment requires some attendance on campus. Lectures are prerecorded (watch online), but active participation requires that all students enrolled this way attend on campus tutorials (face-to-face). These active participation activities are complemented with online reading material, videos and documentaries to support your learning.

2. EXTERNAL. This mode of enrollment supports distance learning and requires no on-campus attendance. Lectures are prerecorded (watch online) and active participation activities are conducted via iLearn (online).

3. SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES- Functionally the same as external mode. The active participation assessment rubric does not align with ZOOM teaching so all SC enrolled students (and 'online' tutorials) will follow the same study plan as external students. ALL students who do not wish to attend on campus should enrol in the EXTERNAL offering for session 2 2020.
