Unit description

Dispute resolution schemes now dominate the practice of law at many levels. This unit explores various types of dispute resolution processes with an emphasis on negotiation, mediation, conciliation, arbitration and restorative justice. The unit provides an overview of the theory, philosophy, process, ethical and legal issues involved in each of these methods of dispute resolution. Through experiential role plays, discussions, exercises and research, students will be introduced to the skills required to advise on and participate in conflict resolution and management.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Describe and critique the various types of dispute resolution processes in operation in Australia and other jurisdictions.

ULO2: Demonstrate and apply the necessary skills required in alternative methods of resolving disputes, including in teams.

ULO3: Identify, research and analyse the legal issues surrounding the practice of dispute resolution in Australia.

ULO4: Research and critique the relevant ethical considerations in dispute resolution and management processes.

ULO5: Identify and apply the applicable dispute resolution process to the nature of the dispute and the participants in that dispute.
