Unit description

This unit is about the ways in which various narratives are ethically produced, disseminated and represented by the media. As such, it links the skills, knowledge and insights students have gained from various Media courses to relevant future pathways. Questions that this unit will ask include: how are media debates ethically conceived and represented? What are the ethical implications of un-sourced media narratives? How does the media therefore construct and shape culture, society and individuals? The unit will draw on a number of media theories, ethical and practical approaches, as well as previous course content and knowledge to debate the role of the media in shaping public opinion, and ethical decision-making around various narratives, including news stories, and social perceptions. In other words, how are we influenced by media in relation to ethical decision-making more generally?

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: analyse and evaluate contemporary ethical debates around global media production, consumption, distribution, and re-circulation.

ULO2: communicate the debates and issues around 'media ethics' in a way that encourages group learning, deliberation and discussion.

ULO3: produce media that delivers an ethics-related argument.

ULO4: synthesise, analyse and reflect on how to ethically shape media content, or consume media representations in future employment and daily life.

General Assessment Information

Assignment grading

All assignments of this unit are aligned to the standards outlined in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy (<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/assessment>). Marking rubric for each of the assignments is available on the iLearn. Students are expected to read the rubric before working on the assignment.

Late submission:

1. Assessment tasks are aligned to the unit learning outcomes. Timely submission of assessment tasks is a unit requirement.
2. Late submission penalty: Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.
3. Re-Marks: The in-session re-mark application form is available at <http://www.mq.edu.au/pubstatic/public/download/?id=167914>.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Intellectual Autobiography	50%	No	Friday, September 11, 2020
Provocation Presentation	50%	No	presented in class during week 3-11, as scheduled

Intellectual Autobiography

Assessment Type <sup>1</sup>: Portfolio

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 53 hours

Due: Friday, September 11, 2020

Weighting: 50%

For this assessment, students are required to develop a clear, exciting and creative response to one of the most commonly asked questions in employment and postgraduate interviews: “So, tell me about yourself.” In keeping with the class theme of ethics, the goal is to truthfully communicate interests and values in such a way that your reader/viewer is inspired to view the student as a future professional. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse and evaluate contemporary ethical debates around global media production, consumption, distribution, and re-circulation.
- communicate the debates and issues around 'media ethics' in a way that encourages group learning, deliberation and discussion.
- produce media that delivers an ethics-related argument.
- synthesise, analyse and reflect on how to ethically shape media content, or consume media representations in future employment and daily life.

Provocation Presentation

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 45 hours

Due: presented in class during week 3-11, as scheduled

Weighting: 50%

Students are required to give a “provocation presentation” to classmates, based on a particular reading. Presentations will be recorded. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse and evaluate contemporary ethical debates around global media production, consumption, distribution, and re-circulation.
- communicate the debates and issues around 'media ethics' in a way that encourages group learning, deliberation and discussion.
- synthesise, analyse and reflect on how to ethically shape media content, or consume media representations in future employment and daily life.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

<sup>2</sup> Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Start of classes and tutorials

- Lectures begin Week 1
- Tutorials begin Week 2.

Delivery of unit

- This unit will be delivered as one hour lecture with one hour interactive seminar. It will combine lecture-style material with guided inquiry, production tasks, writing workshops, small group activities and discussions. For current updates, classrooms and times please consult the MQU Timetables website: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au>
- Lecture portions of the class will be recorded in video format. See Echo block on iLearn for weekly lectures.
- Tutorial portions of the class will be available for review via archived Zoom links.

Attendance Expectations

- Students are expected to attend (or, if the streaming option is selected, watch online) all lectures for this unit. Lectures are not optional: they deliver important content and are a central component of meeting the learning outcomes in this unit. Students who elect to not attend/watch lectures will miss out on unit content, and do so at their own risk.
- Students are expected to attend all tutorials for this unit. Tutorials deliver important content and are a central component of meeting the learning outcomes in this unit. Students who elect to not attend tutorials will miss out on unit content, and do so at their own risk.

Readings and Other Media

- Please consult the iLearn site for weekly readings and media

Laptop Policy

- Please DO bring your own devices for use in class (laptops or tablets + mobile phones).
- The library has laptops and iPads available for lending if you don't have your own. <http://www.mq.edu.au/about/campus-services-and-facilities/library/facilities/computer-facilities> and there are other computer labs on campus.
- Please also bring a pen or pencil and paper to class.

Other Technology Matters

- Students are expected to make use of everyday information technologies to complete their assignments (i.e. Personal Computers, mobile Phones, freely available editing software and online publishing platforms).
- As this is not a production unit, students should not contact the department's technical staff for equipment or support. Feel free to challenge yourself but work within your technical abilities.

Feedback Feedback in this unit is available in multiple forms.

- For points of relevance to the whole class, informal feedback will be given through the 'announcement' function in iLearn.
- For individual student questions related to unit activities, electronic communication will be used.
- For in-person consultations, students will be able to book electronic appointments with Terri.
- For assessment feedback, students will receive numerical scores corresponding to a detailed rubric, attached to assignments marked in Turnitin.
