Unit description

This unit provides students with an understanding of the factors that influence how people work together, what makes a team effective in the contemporary workplace, and the role of leadership. Lectures explore work behaviour at both the individual and the team level, drawing on theories and research in the literature on groups as well as the more recent multilevel research in organisational psychology. Students are required to engage in team assessment projects to help them develop professional skills and learn how they might function more effectively in group contexts.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Identify key group processes and factors that affect team performance at work and leadership competencies.

ULO2: Demonstrate an understanding of theory and issues related to multilevel issues in organisations

ULO3: Present information on individual and group functioning for an organisation in a clear and appropriate manner

ULO4: Assess a conflict situation and develop innovative strategies for managing the situation.

ULO5: Demonstrate the ability to work cooperatively and productively in teams

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Group report on an organisational survey including a self-reflection on the team process	70%	No	14/09/20
Conflict case study	30%	No	02/11/20

Group report on an organisational survey including a self-reflection on the team process

Assessment Type ¹: Report

Indicative Time on Task ²: 60 hours

Due: 14/09/20

Weighting: 70%

Students work in teams to develop a written report of survey data, including making recommendations. Teams are to work together to allocate tasks and plan the report, which should be up to 1000 words, excluding tables and cover page. Students reflect individually on the team process and identify impacts on team effectiveness. This component is 1500 words.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify key group processes and factors that affect team performance at work and leadership competencies.
- Demonstrate an understanding of theory and issues related to multilevel issues in organisations
- Present information on individual and group functioning for an organisation in a clear and appropriate manner
- Demonstrate the ability to work cooperatively and productively in teams

Conflict case study

Assessment Type ¹: Case study/analysis

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: 02/11/20

Weighting: 30%

Case study of a difficult interpersonal situation faced by a team leader. Students are required to analyse the problem in a case report of 750 words

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify key group processes and factors that affect team performance at work and leadership competencies.
- Demonstrate an understanding of theory and issues related to multilevel issues in organisations
- Assess a conflict situation and develop innovative strategies for managing the situation.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

This unit is delivered in eight weekly classes and one full day workshop.

iLearn will be used to post all pre-work, resources, lesson recordings and assessment information relating to this Unit. Further information regarding this unit will be available via a Unit Outline posted in iLearn.
