Unit description This unit introduces a psychological perspective into the study of language. We explore models of the perceptual and cognitive processes that are involved in acquiring and using linguistic knowledge, considering evidence from typical language users and people with language disorders. Specific topics will be drawn from a set that includes: word recognition and understanding; sentence comprehension; language production; aphasia; first language acquisition, skilled reading and reading development, second language acquisition, bilingualism and multilingualism.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics.
- ULO2: Identity questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- ULO3: Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use.
- ULO4: Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.
- ULO5: Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues.
- ULO6: Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.
- ULO7: Evaluate psycholinguistic theories of typical language processing using data from people with disordered language.

General Assessment Information

- Late submissions without an extension will receive a penalty of 3% of the total mark available for the assessment task per day including weekend days (i.e. this is 3% of the total marks possible for the task – NOT 3% of the marks the student received. For example, if the assessment task is worth 100 marks and the student is two days late their mark for the task is reduced by 6 marks.)
- Late submission of an assessment task without an extension will not be accepted at all after the date on which marked assessment tasks have been released to the rest of the class. Any student with unsubmitted work at this date will receive a mark of 0 for the assessment task.
- Extensions will only be given in special circumstances, and can be requested by completing the Special Consideration request at ask.mq.edu.au and providing the requisite supporting documentation.
- Extensions that will result in submissions after the assessment task has been returned to the class will require a separate assessment task to be completed at the unit convenor's discretion.
- For more information on Special Consideration, see the university website <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration/>
- If a student fails the unit due to non-submission of an assignment or non-attendance at an exam, an FA grade will be applied in accordance with the University's Assessment Policy.
- Unit convenors have the discretion to determine whether or not students should fail a unit on the basis of lateness penalties alone if other learning outcomes of the unit have been met.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
A written task critically reviewing a published research article (1000 words)	20%	No	Sept 3, 2020
Brief outline of a research report (300 words)	5%	No	Oct 8, 2020

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
A research report (2400 words)	30%	No	Oct 29, 2020
multiple choice questions	45%	No	in Exam Period

A written task critically reviewing a published research article (1000 words)

Assessment Type ¹: Literature review

Indicative Time on Task ²: 18 hours

Due: Sept 3, 2020

Weighting: 20%

Students need to answer 15 questions based on a research article

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics.
- Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use.
- Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues.
- Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.

Brief outline of a research report (300 words)

Assessment Type ¹: Design Task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 4 hours

Due: Oct 8, 2020

Weighting: 5%

Students will plan out information of their class project report

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics.
- Identity questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.

A research report (2400 words)

Assessment Type ¹: Report

Indicative Time on Task ²: 26 hours

Due: Oct 29, 2020

Weighting: 30%

The report is based on a class experiment for which each student is encouraged to participate

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics.
- Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use.
- Critically analyse empirical research articles in psycholinguistics.
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues.
- Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.
- Evaluate psycholinguistic theories of typical language processing using data from people with disordered language.

multiple choice questions

Assessment Type ¹: Examination

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: in Exam Period

Weighting: 45%

Exam questions assessing knowledge from the unit

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Describe and evaluate theories and research in psycholinguistics.
- Identify questions and issues raised in the field of Psycholinguistics.
- Identify the methods of data collection that psycholinguists use.
- Interpret empirical data in relation to theoretical questions/issues.
- Analyse language disorders, including linguistic disorders in reading.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation
