Unit description

This unit comprises study of special topics in Earth and Environmental Sciences and is designed to supplement a student's existing knowledge and coursework with targeted material and techniques that will be required for their MRes thesis project in year two. Activities may include attending a national or international summer school, cross-institutional study or highly tailored units of study that are exemplars of current analytical/theoretical concepts or problem-solving applications of Earth and Environmental Sciences research methods. Topics and activities are selected with an academic advisor to encourage students to explore emerging themes in Earth and Environmental Sciences. Students develop skills in investigation and deep analysis required to undertake more advanced research.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>
