Session 2 Learning and Teaching Update

The decision has been made to conduct study online for the remainder of Session 2 for all units WITHOUT mandatory on-campus learning activities. Exams for Session 2 will also be online where possible to do so.

This is due to the extension of the lockdown orders and to provide certainty around arrangements for the remainder of Session 2. We hope to return to campus beyond Session 2 as soon as it is safe and appropriate to do so.

Some classes/teaching activities cannot be moved online and must be taught on campus. You should already know if you are in one of these classes/teaching activities and your unit convenor will provide you with more information via iLearn. If you want to confirm, see the list of units with mandatory on-campus classes/teaching activities.

Visit the MQ COVID-19 information page for more detail.

Unit description

This unit will be offered in the form of an advanced project directed towards integrating the knowledge and learning experiences gained across the Master of Ancient History program as a whole. Students will explore the significance of study of the ancient world through critical examinations of the work of recent (nineteenth/twentieth century) and living practitioners of ancient history, and then complete the project with an essay exploring the relevance of contemporary concerns to the study of the ancient world.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Acquire knowledge of how approaches to and methods of study of the ancient world have developed between the early nineteenth century and today.

ULO2: Uncover and assimilate information in a context appropriate to postgraduate study.

ULO3: Understand how scholars with varying outlooks and perspectives have combined investigating the ancient world with responding to and seeking to shape modern conditions.

ULO4: Relate understanding of the ancient world to broad conceptual frameworks and modern contexts, with a view to integrating knowledge and learning experiences from the whole Master of Ancient History degree program.

ULO5: Show in writing critical understanding of factual questions and judgements of likelihood and value.

ULO6: Demonstrate in writing ability to reason persuasively from a question to a provisional answer, citing relevant evidence.

General Assessment Information

How to submit your work Written work must be submitted through Turnitin in the iLearn website for the unit.

Extensions Please submit your work on time. If you want an extension you must apply for special consideration (<https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration>). Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – 10 marks out of 100 credit will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted seven days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Results Grading decisions for each assessment task will be moderated against the set criteria and standards before task results are released. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent.

Delivery and Resources

Lectures and reading

There are lectures in this unit, but not every week. Lectures are intended as a first introduction to get you thinking: your principal learning resources are the books and articles you will read.

Bibliography

Bibliographies are given for each assignment. Students should regard these as a baseline and develop their work by identifying and making use of further bibliographical items in accordance with their own judgement. Many but not all items listed in the bibliographies are available in Leganto. For copyright reasons, when a book is recommended, no more than a chapter can be made available in Leganto. This does not mean that there is no need to read the rest of the book. Most of the items listed in the bibliographies are available in Macquarie University Library. OUA students may borrow hard-copy books via snail-mail.

A few older items are not available in Macquarie University Library. Interlibrary loans are one of the strategies which students may choose, in order to obtain these items where needed.

Learning Skills

Learning Skills (<https://students.mq.edu.au/support/study/skills>) provides academic writing resources and study strategies to improve your marks and take control of your study. •

Changes from Previous Offering

For 2021 a new topic comes in for the Advanced Project: Histories and Historians of Alexander the Great since 1945. This replaces detailed consideration of T.C. McCaskie's 2012 article "As on a Darkling Plain": Practitioners, Publics, Propagandists, and Ancient Historiography'.
