Session 2 Learning and Teaching Update

The decision has been made to conduct study online for the remainder of Session 2 for all units WITHOUT mandatory on-campus learning activities. Exams for Session 2 will also be online where possible to do so.

This is due to the extension of the lockdown orders and to provide certainty around arrangements for the remainder of Session 2. We hope to return to campus beyond Session 2 as soon as it is safe and appropriate to do so.

Some classes/teaching activities cannot be moved online and must be taught on campus. You should already know if you are in one of these classes/teaching activities and your unit convenor will provide you with more information via iLearn. If you want to confirm, see the list of units with mandatory on-campus classes/teaching activities.

Visit the MQ COVID-19 information page for more detail.

Unit description
In preparation for conducting research, this unit provides an opportunity to develop a hypothetical research project that supports students to develop their skills prior to engaging in research involving human subjects. The unit covers topics from conceptualising a research project, developing a research proposal including design and methodology, applying for ethics approval and ensuring research is best practice, ethical and promotes meaningful engagement and reciprocity between researchers and Indigenous people and communities.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate a high level understanding of the ethical and methodological requirements of research with Indigenous people and communities.

ULO2: Analyse, identify and evaluate issues concerning research in Indigenous contexts.

ULO3: Demonstrate knowledge of Indigenous methodologies and the ability to apply them to research.

ULO4: Critically reflect on your responsibilities as a researcher.
ULO6: Demonstrated high level of written communication skills including structuring and supporting an academic argument.

ULO7: Confidently use online communication forums and engage in informed interactive learning.

Review Essay

Assessment Type: Essay
Indicative Time on Task: 20 hours
Due: 10th September
Weighting: 30%

The review essay requires a critical analysis and discussion of an Indigenous research methods text chosen from a list provided.

On successful completion you will be able to:
- Analyse, identify and evaluate issues concerning research in Indigenous contexts.
- Demonstrate knowledge of Indigenous methodologies and the ability to apply them to research.
- Demonstrated high level of written communication skills including structuring and supporting an academic argument.

Tutorial Activities

Assessment Type: Participatory task
Indicative Time on Task: 26 hours
Due: Weekly
Weighting: 30%

You will be required to actively participate in weekly online tutorial activities. These will be available on a weekly basis on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:
- Analyse, identify and evaluate issues concerning research in Indigenous contexts.
• Demonstrate knowledge of Indigenous methodologies and the ability to apply them to research.
• Critically reflect on your responsibilities as a researcher.
• Confidently use online communication forums and engage in informed interactive learning.

Major Essay
Assessment Type 1: Essay
Indicative Time on Task 2: 40 hours
Due: 5th November
Weighting: 40%

This task requires students to choose one question from a list provided. The essay will ask students to critically engage with Indigenous research frameworks outlined in the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:
• Demonstrate a high level understanding of the ethical and methodological requirements of research with Indigenous people and communities.
• Analyse, identify and evaluate issues concerning research in Indigenous contexts.
• Demonstrate knowledge of Indigenous methodologies and the ability to apply them to research.
• Demonstrated high level of written communication skills including structuring and supporting an academic argument.

1 If you need help with your assignment, please contact:
• the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
• the Learning Skills Unit for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Protocols for Indigenous Studies

In Australia there are two distinct Indigenous peoples: Aboriginal people and Torres Strait Islander people.

When writing about Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders do not use the acronym ‘ATSI’, write in full. Capital letters should always be used when referring to Aboriginal peoples and or Torres Strait Islander peoples.

While Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander are acceptable terms to use, it should be recognised... that these are collective terms and often used improperly to impose a single identity on the many different communities.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people generally prefer to be known by the language/cultural groups or communities, to which they belong, that is, own names rather than terms such 'the Aboriginals' or 'the Islanders'. For example, Aboriginal people in the area surrounding Macquarie University may refer to themselves as Dharug. It is important that you always check the correct name or terms to use for people in the area/region.

The use of incorrect, inappropriate or dated terminology is to be avoided as it can give offence. Many historical terms or those in common usage some years ago are now not acceptable, including terms such as 'aborigine' ‘native’, ‘savage’ and ‘primitive’. Similarly, do not use the terms 'half-caste', 'part-Aborigine/Aboriginal' or any reference to skin colour or physical features, as they do not signify that a person is Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander and may cause offence. When quoting from academic or other sources that uses inappropriate, dated terminology or racist language, use (sic) directly after the inappropriate term of phrase, thus calling attention to the fact that it has been sourced from the original and that you understand it to be outdated, inappropriate or problematic in the contemporary context.
