Unit description

The special focus of this unit is documentary as a mode of screen storytelling. Students encounter different modes and forms of documentary production and analyse the impact of the strategies used to shoot and compose them. Students practice core documentary making skills such as observation, interview, image composition, dramatisations and structuring stories. Through practical work, students address a range of artistic choices available in representing the real. By engaging with the opportunities this unit offers, students can produce work suitable for their professional portfolios and for entry into film festivals.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: synthesise practical, technical and conceptual skills through the research, development and collaborative realisation of creative non-fiction screen production.
- ULO2: develop and implement strategic creative and technical pathways towards the production of non-fiction screen works.
- ULO3: analyse technical and creative strategies through a critical appraisal of non-fiction screen works.
- ULO4: evaluate critically one's own and other's creative screen works.

General Assessment Information

All assignments of this unit are aligned to the standards outlined in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy (<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/assessment>). Marking rubric for each of the assignments is available on the iLearn. Students are expected to read the rubric before working on the assignment.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply - two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date - and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (including weekends) after the original submission deadline, No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments - eg quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
iLearn Quizzes & Tasks	15%	No	selected weeks throughout semester
Individually Authored Documentary & Reflection	35%	No	11 April, 11:59 pm
Documentary Production	50%	No	06 June, 11:59pm

iLearn Quizzes & Tasks

Assessment Type ¹: Quiz/Test

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15 hours

Due: selected weeks throughout semester

Weighting: 15%

Students will respond to a series of low-stakes iLearn activities such as quizzes, short practical exercises, or critical viewing tasks. Students will be expected to draw on resources informing these tasks for their productions and reflection statements.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- analyse technical and creative strategies through a critical appraisal of non-fiction screen works.
- evaluate critically one's own and other's creative screen works.

Individually Authored Documentary & Reflection

Assessment Type ¹: Creative work

Indicative Time on Task ²: 35 hours

Due: 11 April, 11:59 pm

Weighting: 35%

This assessment is an individually authored creative documentary of between one minute and two minutes long, responding to the brief supplied on iLearn, and reflective writing on processes and influences on the production. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- synthesise practical, technical and conceptual skills through the research, development and collaborative realisation of creative non-fiction screen production.
- develop and implement strategic creative and technical pathways towards the production of non-fiction screen works.
- evaluate critically one's own and other's creative screen works.

Documentary Production

Assessment Type ¹: Creative work

Indicative Time on Task ²: 60 hours

Due: 06 June, 11:59pm

Weighting: 50%

This task includes the preparation for each student's crew role, a responsive and engaged execution of that role for the documentary production, and thoughtful reflective writing about learning, production processes, and key influences. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- synthesise practical, technical and conceptual skills through the research, development and collaborative realisation of creative non-fiction screen production.
- develop and implement strategic creative and technical pathways towards the production of non-fiction screen works.
- evaluate critically one's own and other's creative screen works.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Completion of the 'Individually Authored Documentary' requires students to use their own phones or cameras to capture images and sound, and their own computers and software to edit, complete, and submit the assignment. Macquarie University can give you access to a complete Adobe Creative Cloud license if your software of choice for editing this assignment is Premiere

Pro. Alternatively you may use the Avid Media Composer software available on campus in the computer labs in 10HA, or you may download Avid First to your own computer and edit and complete your project with Avid. (Nb. Avid Media Composer and Avid First are not easily compatible with each other so do not plan to start and edit your project on Avid First but complete it on Media Composer.) Other editing software (e.g. iMovie) is also acceptable for this assignment, however, we suggest you take the opportunity to use Premiere or Avid, which are commonly used in the screen industries. Tutorials are available through the library for both Premiere and Avid. If you have concerns about the technical specifications of your computer, consult Alex Ryan or Mike Baber.

For the 'Documentary Production' assignment, each student will be assigned a crew role and will be responsible for familiarising themselves with equipment required to fulfill that role to a high pre-professional standard through workshops. Cameras, microphones and, as needed, lights will be provided for the 'Documentary Production' assignment. These will be booked by producers for each production, through the online booking system, after submitting appropriate production plans. The 'Documentary Production' assignment will be edited on Avid Media Composer, in the edit suites on campus in 10HA. Training and support for Avid Media Composer will be provided through a combination of online tutorials, workshops and consultations, by appointment with the technical managers for the unit.

If completing this unit 100% online, the two production assignments, 'Individually Authored Documentary' and 'Documentary Production', both require students to use their own phones or cameras to capture images and sound, and their own computers and software to edit, complete, and submit the assignment. Macquarie University can give you access to a complete Adobe Creative Cloud license if your software of choice for editing this assignment is Premiere Pro. Alternatively you may download Avid First to your own computer and edit and complete your project with Avid. Other editing software (e.g. iMovie) is also acceptable for this assignment, however, we suggest you take the opportunity to use Premiere or Avid, which are commonly used in the screen industries. Tutorials are available through the library for both Premiere and Avid. If you have concerns about the technical specifications of your computer, consult Alex Ryan or Mike Baber.
