Session 2 Learning and Teaching Update

The decision has been made to conduct study online for the remainder of Session 2 for all units WITHOUT mandatory on-campus learning activities. Exams for Session 2 will also be online where possible to do so.

This is due to the extension of the lockdown orders and to provide certainty around arrangements for the remainder of Session 2. We hope to return to campus beyond Session 2 as soon as it is safe and appropriate to do so.

Some classes/teaching activities cannot be moved online and must be taught on campus. You should already know if you are in one of these classes/teaching activities and your unit convenor will provide you with more information via iLearn. If you want to confirm, see the list of units with mandatory on-campus classes/teaching activities.

Visit the MQ COVID-19 information page for more detail.

Unit description

This unit studies the nature, formation and management of the modern corporation. It examines the consequences of the adoption of corporate form including the separation of legal personality between the company and its shareholders and the impact of limited liability. The extensive common law and statutory regulatory regime applicable to directors and other company officers in the management of the company is surveyed as is the important role of shareholders' rights in governing this entity. The examination of the corporation is undertaken in the context of globalisation where the proliferation of corporate governance codes is increasing.

A. There will be a 10% quiz in week four as per the schedule. This will cover all readings, tutorial material and lectures up to and including week 4.

There will be an online weekly ongoing task where you will be required to provide an answer to a tutorial question prior to midnight on the Sunday before the tutorial. For example if you are allocated Q1 from week four, your tutorial will be on the Thursday 19th August. You will be required to upload your response to your allocated question before midnight on the Sunday before the tutorial being 15th August. You will be allocated only one question for the semester. This will be worth 5%.

The balance of the 20% being 5% will be made up as a minimum of five informative entries in response to a formal response placed online by a student. Exemplars will be placed on ilearn for you to view.

B. 20% quiz in week 10 closing on 15th October 2021 at midnight.

C. 60% exam. An exemplar will be on ilearn from last year's online exam. You will have a window of 10 Hours to complete this exam paper. It should not take any longer than 3 hours to complete but allow more time for editing and improving your submission.

Delivery and Resources

Every week and every topic there are a series of bite sized lectures you are expected to listen to prior to the tutorial.

Students are expected to complete reading the assigned textbook chapters and all recorded lecture materials for the week, in advance of tutorial attendance.

Students should also read through the tutorial questions and attempt their own answers in advance of the tutorials.

The purpose of tutorials is to actively engage with your tutor and fellow students to SOLIDIFY your understanding of the topic. In order to do this, you must already have explored the topic and covered the assigned materials.

There is a significant online component to this course. All questions related to the course are to be posted to the appropriate iLearn forum.

Students are expected to monitor the forums and to respond to questions posted by other students.

Materials for each module can be found in the tabs below, along with tutorial questions for discussion each week.
