Unit description

This unit provides a broad overview of the research paradigms that characterize the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. Through this unit, the Faculty of Arts seeks to provide students with a constructive framework to recognise the possible contribution of diverse theoretical and disciplinary approaches. By concentrating on a core problem that crosses disciplinary boundaries in their final assessment task, demonstrating how that problem might be confronted under different paradigms, students will become conversant in a range of analytical techniques and theoretical perspectives. Students will learn to better recognise the assumptions that underwrite diverse approaches, their strengths, and their relations to each other, especially to facilitate collaboration and the exchange of ideas. Although much of scholarship today requires focused specialisation, being able to communicate our ideas, recognising the significance of new research, and building meaningful collaborations all require an understanding of the diversity of approaches available in the Arts.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.

ULO3: communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.

ULO4: analyse a model text and identify broad paradigms being deployed by another theorist.

ULO5: devise model research projects, on a single topic, demonstrating command of multiple theoretical paradigms.

ULO6: describe and evaluate diverse theoretical paradigms in general and in relation to a particular research topic.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Research design paper	60%	No	8/6/2021
Textual analysis essay	40%	No	19/4/2021

Research design paper

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 30 hours

Due: 8/6/2021

Weighting: 60%

The research design paper is an essay in which the student will lay out the initial proposal for three different project designs, all on a single topic, demonstrating how the project would be articulated under three different research paradigms.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.
- communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.
- devise model research projects, on a single topic, demonstrating command of multiple theoretical paradigms.
- describe and evaluate diverse theoretical paradigms in general and in relation to a particular research topic.

Textual analysis essay

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 20 hours

Due: 19/4/2021

Weighting: 40%

Based on target texts selected by the unit convenors, students are responsible for an analytical essay detailing where at least two (preferably three or more) of the research paradigms discussed in the unit have been employed. Students should be able to cite specific passages, concepts and terminology from the target text to demonstrate where and how a paradigm is being used, and relate them to readings, lectures, and key concepts from the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.
- communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.
- analyse a model text and identify broad paradigms being deployed by another theorist.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

All unit readings will be made available through Leganto, online at the Library homepage. All lectures will be either prerecorded or done live so that you can watch them on the Thursday of each week, from 1 to 3 pm. If they are prerecorded, you will have access earlier if you choose to watch them in advance. In our experience, if they are available earlier, many students benefit from watching them early so as not to have so much material in a single block at one time.
