Unit description

This unit provides students with knowledge of the wider arts and entertainment field and related management practices, considering performance from economic and interdisciplinary perspectives. Students will also learn the broader theoretical and practical implications of industry dynamics in social, cultural, and political contexts. It aims to increase students' capacity for further study and employability across industry sectors. No prior experience of the field is required.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: identify major themes and debates relating to the performing arts and entertainment industries.

ULO2: evaluate the wide structure, opportunities, and dynamics of the performing arts and entertainment industries.

ULO3: analyse the economic and cultural significance of the arts and entertainment industries.

ULO4: synthesise creative and cultural industries literatures.

General Assessment Information

Late Submission Penalty:

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Attendance and Participation:

Students are expected to view all lectures for MMCC2120. Lectures are not optional: they are a central component of meeting the learning outcomes in this unit, and deliver important content that is directly assessed. Students who elect to not view lectures will miss out on important unit content, and do so at their own risk.

Students are likewise expected to attend all tutorials for MMCC2120. Tutorials are not optional: they deliver important content and are a central component of meeting the learning outcomes in this unit. Tutorials provide an environment where students can discuss ideas and learn from each other, building important networks and group work skills. In tutorials, you will also have the opportunity to ask for assistance from your tutor, and receive informal feedback on work in progress. Students who do not attend tutorials will miss out on important unit content and learning activities, and do so at their own risk.

Independent Work:

MMCC2120 students will need to do their own reading of relevant texts or online materials outside class time.

Assessment standard in this unit align with the University's grade descriptors, available at: <http://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/assessment>
