<tr>
<td>Faced with an increasingly interconnected world, disciplines across the humanities and social sciences have taken a “transnational turn” in recent decades. This unit introduces students to transnational and global approaches to the study of cultural texts. We examine the contested theoretical frameworks associated with the study of texts and cultures across national borders, including globalisation, postcolonialism, transnationalism, internationalism, diaspora, and world literature. In the process, we analyse how culture relates to global systems and networks, from the transnational avant-garde to popular culture, and from “little magazines” to the internet. This unit adopts a transdisciplinary approach, combining social and political theory, analysis of a wide range of cultural texts and artefacts, and diverse methods for cultural research, using varied sources. Students work towards the development of an independent research essay, and are encouraged to bring their own backgrounds and research interests to bear in both class and assessments. It is taught by a diverse range of scholars, and is associated with the Global Literatures and Cultures research group.</td>

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- ULO1: explain and evaluate different theoretical models available for understanding global, transnational, international, world, postcolonial, decolonial and diasporic cultural production
- ULO3: communicate advanced multidisciplinary perspectives on global cultural production across a range of genres and media.
- ULO2: identify and reflect on different approaches to research into transnational cultures.
- ULO4: formulate, research and write a transdisciplinary research project on an aspect of global cultures, identifying appropriate frameworks, approaches and sources/data.

General Assessment Information

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

Research Proposal/Outline

Assessment Type: Plan
Indicative Time on Task: 20 hours
Due: May 30
Weighting: 30%

Students will specify their proposed topic, argument/hypothesis, theoretical approach, methodology, indicative reading list and sources/data for an independent final research project.
On successful completion you will be able to:

- explain and evaluate different theoretical models available for understanding global, transnational, international, world, postcolonial, decolonial and diasporic cultural production
- communicate advanced multidisciplinary perspectives on global cultural production across a range of genres and media.
- identify and reflect on different approaches to research into transnational cultures.
- formulate, research and write a transdisciplinary research project on an aspect of global cultures, identifying appropriate frameworks, approaches and sources/data.

Research Essay

Assessment Type 1: Essay
Indicative Time on Task 2: 30 hours
Due: June 20
Weighting: 50%

Students are required to develop their own topic, suitable to their research interests and applying concepts and approaches discussed in the unit. Students will also work with peers to workshop this essay from the proposal stage to final completion.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- explain and evaluate different theoretical models available for understanding global, transnational, international, world, postcolonial, decolonial and diasporic cultural production
- communicate advanced multidisciplinary perspectives on global cultural production across a range of genres and media.
- formulate, research and write a transdisciplinary research project on an aspect of global cultures, identifying appropriate frameworks, approaches and sources/data.

Peer/group Participation

Assessment Type 1: Participatory task
Indicative Time on Task 2: 15 hours
Due: Weeks 1 to 13
Weighting: 20%

Peer-led workshopping of unit topics and assessment tasks.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- explain and evaluate different theoretical models available for understanding global, transnational, international, world, postcolonial, decolonial and diasporic cultural production

• identify and reflect on different approaches to research into transnational cultures.

1 If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

• the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
• the Learning Skills Unit for academic skills support.

2 Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Login is via: https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/

Is my unit in iLearn? https://unitguides.mq.edu.au/ilearn_unit_status/ to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.
