Unit description

Research Frontiers 1 will expose Bachelor of Philosophy students to the range of topics that are currently dominating their chosen disciplines and the Humanities and Social Sciences more broadly, as well as equip them with the skills to critically appraise the research trends defining research in their area of study. Students will acquire disciplinary knowledge at a high level and learn how research is carried out in the disciplinary area of their choice so that by the end of the course they can demonstrate competence in articulating and applying key research skills in their field.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://students.mq.edu.au/important-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain the relevant research questions and approaches to research in their chosen discipline area.

ULO2: Apply a high level of oral, written and technological communication skills in the preparation of a portfolio documenting their learning.

ULO3: Use well developed judgement to responsibly ask research questions.

ULO4: Provide evidence of the ability to be an independent learner.

General Assessment Information

Please consult the FOAR7002 iLearn site for the most recent and accurate assessment information.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Seminar Attendance and Reflections	30%	No	Ongoing (around the end of each semester)
Reflections on Flexible Activities	70%	No	Ongoing (around the end of each semester)

Seminar Attendance and Reflections

Assessment Type ¹: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task ²: 60 hours

Due: Ongoing (around the end of each semester)

Weighting: 30%

Students will be assessed on their attendance at, and brief written reflections of, research seminars. Each reflection should communicate the value of these seminars for the students' learning journey (see rubric under the 'Assessments' tab on the iLearn site for precise details of what is expected).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Explain the relevant research questions and approaches to research in their chosen discipline area.
- Apply a high level of oral, written and technological communication skills in the preparation of a portfolio documenting their learning.
- Use well developed judgement to responsibly ask research questions.

Reflections on Flexible Activities

Assessment Type ¹: Portfolio

Indicative Time on Task ²: 230 hours

Due: Ongoing (around the end of each semester)

Weighting: 70%

Students will be assessed on their completion and reflection (in written and Poster Presentation form) upon a range of flexible activities (per department, as outlined on the iLearn site). These reflections should communicate the value of these activities for the students' learning journey (see rubric under the 'Assessments' tab on the iLearn site for precise details of what is expected).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply a high level of oral, written and technological communication skills in the preparation of a portfolio documenting their learning.
- Use well developed judgement to responsibly ask research questions.
- Provide evidence of the ability to be an independent learner.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Learning Skills Unit for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

FOAR7002 is a year long unit. Students will attend 1 introductory lecture (1.5 hrs), workshops (4) and research seminars (minimum 6) across the entire year and as advised by the Department in which they are enrolled. Students will also develop a program from a list of options that suit their own research needs.

This unit is divided in two larger components: Zone 1 and Zone 2. The first component, Zone 1, comprises attendance at 4 specified Faculty or Department Research Training Workshops, and a minimum of 6 Department Research Seminars. Zone 2, the second component, aims to provide students with flexibility to tailor a program that suits their own needs. Each Department, in close collaboration with the Faculty, has developed a set of activities that aims to increase each student's knowledge of their topic/s of interest as well as enhance student research skills.

In addition to research seminars and workshops, students' options include auditing undergraduate and postgraduate units relevant to their research interests, participating in a reading group, joining a research group, attending conferences and other research events, engaging in scholarship, and/or attend a range of HDR Learning Skills workshops or Library workshops. Students will have a level of flexibility to develop a program that suits their own research needs and, through 4 written reflections, develop a self-reflective narrative about their progress as part of a transition from being an undergraduate coursework student to becoming a postgraduate researcher.

Unit Schedule

There are no set ongoing lectures for this unit. The introductory session aims to introduce students to the unit, activity options and assessment structures. In 2021 this lecture will be:

- Week 1 - Friday, 26 February, 9:30-11 am (21 Wally's Walk, Macquarie Theatre). This will be recorded and posted on the FOAR7002 iLearn site.

The rest of your timetable will be determined by the options you select from within your Department's offering (in consultation with your Department MRes Director or delegate):

- Research Training Workshops: See your Department's section on the FOAR7002 ilearn site for precise details
- Research Seminars x 6: See your Department's section on the FOAR7002 ilearn site and Departmental MRes Directors for precise details
- Other Activities: See your Department's section on the FOAR7002 ilearn site and Departmental MRes Directors for precise details

Faculty and Department-based activities will endeavour to provide online options. Online availability for flexible activities (eg auditing a unit) may vary: check with your Department MRes Director or the unit convenor).
