Unit description

What is history and how do historians practice their craft? What is the history of history and does it inform issues and debates in contemporary society? What skills does it teach us?

Through the prism of historical literacy this unit explores the meanings, structures, methodologies and interpretive frames of historical thinking as well as the relationship between history and the public sphere. Drawing on knowledge and content from across the major students work individually and collectively on a set of big theoretical questions about history, historical practice and memory. The unit enables students to understand and articulate how their historical literacy is an important attribute of their employability.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO2: Integrate and apply discipline specific knowledge to contemporary and historical problems.

ULO1: Reflect on and articulate discipline specific skills and literacy.

ULO3: Think critically and analytically.

ULO4: Communicate effectively in written, oral and interpersonal forms.

ULO5: Synthesise and integrate knowledge from multiple topic areas.

ULO6: Think historically about the present.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Policy: Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a penalty for lateness will apply - two marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date and no assignment will be accepted more than seven days (Incl.weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments - eg, quizzes, online tests.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
In class and online participation	20%	No	Across the semester
Debate/Presentation	20%	No	Weeks 11 and 12
Written Reflection	20%	No	Friday, 4th June, midnight
Individual Thesis	40%	No	Monday, 19th April, midnight

In class and online participation

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Across the semester

Weighting: 20%

Students will be required to prepare for each class by completing the compulsory readings. They will engage in group discussion in class, demonstrating effective, respectful listening and undertaking a number of short reflective written and oral collaborative exercises across the semester to track progress and engagement.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reflect on and articulate discipline specific skills and literacy.

- Communicate effectively in written, oral and interpersonal forms.
- Think historically about the present.

Debate/Presentation

Assessment Type ¹: Debate

Indicative Time on Task ²: 24 hours

Due: Weeks 11 and 12

Weighting: 20%

Students will make individual and group oral presentations based on their individual/group theses. These are to be 6-8 minutes in length.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Integrate and apply discipline specific knowledge to contemporary and historical problems.
- Think critically and analytically.
- Communicate effectively in written, oral and interpersonal forms.

Written Reflection

Assessment Type ¹: Reflective Writing

Indicative Time on Task ²: 20 hours

Due: Friday, 4th June, midnight

Weighting: 20%

Students will write a short, 800 word, reflection on historical understanding, drawing on the key themes of the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reflect on and articulate discipline specific skills and literacy.
- Think critically and analytically.
- Communicate effectively in written, oral and interpersonal forms.
- Think historically about the present.

Individual Thesis

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Monday, 19th April, midnight

Weighting: 40%

Students will compose an extended written response to a debate/presentation topic. This will be a critical piece of writing, setting out an argument in depth and including three historical/historiographical examples to illustrate. This will then form the basis of a group debate presentation later in the semester.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Integrate and apply discipline specific knowledge to contemporary and historical problems.
- Think critically and analytically.
- Communicate effectively in written, oral and interpersonal forms.
- Synthesise and integrate knowledge from multiple topic areas.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

This unit is entirely seminar based. There are no lectures. Please consult the ilearn site for details of the unit assessments and for instructions from your convenor. The first seminar is in the first week of semester.
