Unit description

The way researchers position a topic in relation to theories and concepts in their field is a crucial step in forming their project. This unit is designed to provide an introduction to major concepts and theories that have shaped geography and planning and their broader historiographies, with a focus on how theory is used in contemporary research in these fields. The core of the unit builds on a series of dialogues across the various areas of research in geography and planning within the Department, and extends this through reading and discussion to engage with the work of key thinkers in geography, planning, and related fields such as development studies and environmental humanities. The unit is flexible and responsive to the interests and strengths of students enrolled in any given semester. It is designed to give students a grounding in key theories that inform research, and reflect on their relevance to students' own learning objectives. It will introduce students to a number of the current open research questions and core concepts across the range of these broad fields.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate an understanding of geography and planning as academic disciplines, including theoretical orientations, concepts, histories and principal subfields.

ULO2: Critique key theoretical approaches in geography and planning.

ULO3: Apply key theories and concepts in geography and planning to your own individual research.

ULO4: Use literacy and digital skills to communicate effectively using appropriate methods of communication.

General Assessment Information

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

All written assessments are to be submitted via Turnitin, the university online submission and marking system - found as a link in iLearn. Turnitin includes Grademark, a paperless grading system where your written assessments are marked by staff online. Submissions are also checked for plagiarism by Turnitin. Turnitin automatically compares your work to the work of your classmates, previous students and material available on the internet. Hard copies of assignments are no longer accepted and will not be marked.

For more information on Turnitin and Grademark: http://mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/assignments.htm

DEADLINES, EXTENSIONS AND PENALTIES

Deadlines set for assessment submissions will not be altered except in exceptional circumstances. In all cases, extensions must be supported with appropriate documentation (medical certificate, counsellor's certificate, statutory declaration). All extensions must be applied for and granted through the special consideration process. See the Special Consideration Policy <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration>

Extensions will not be granted in cases of poor time management. Only the Unit Convenor can authorise extensions.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Students who fail to complete and submit ALL assessments for the unit may not receive enough marks to pass the unit. Penalties will also be incurred for plagiarism, that is, the use of another persons' work and presentation as your own (see University Policies and http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html).

GRADING

Each assessment will be marked, commented upon and returned to you via Turnitin and Grademark. Grading is conducted in line with the universities grading policy (<http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/grading/policy.html>)

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Essay Plan	15%	No	5pm Thursday 1 April 2021
Dialogues Essay	55%	No	5pm Friday 14 May 2021

Essay Plan

Assessment Type ¹: Plan

Indicative Time on Task ²: 15.0 hours

Due: 5pm Thursday 1 April 2021

Weighting: 15%

Sets out the plan for the essay task. The essay plan will include the essay topic, a proposition statement, a detailed plan of how the argument will proceed. The plan will also include a statement about the essay aim and outcomes and how it contributes to geographical thought.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of geography and planning as academic disciplines, including theoretical orientations, concepts, histories and principal subfields.
- Critique key theoretical approaches in geography and planning.
- Apply key theories and concepts in geography and planning to your own individual research.
- Use literacy and digital skills to communicate effectively using appropriate methods of communication.

Dialogues Essay

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 50 hours

Due: 5pm Friday 14 May 2021

Weighting: 55%

3000-word essay that advances theoretical arguments in human geography and planning. The essay will critically apply these to a topic of research interest.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of geography and planning as academic disciplines, including theoretical orientations, concepts, histories and principal subfields.

- Critique key theoretical approaches in geography and planning.
- Apply key theories and concepts in geography and planning to your own individual research.
- Use literacy and digital skills to communicate effectively using appropriate methods of communication.

Reflective Briefs

Assessment Type ¹: Log book

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: 5pm Friday 4 June 2021

Weighting: 30%

Thoughtful and reflective record of each of the required readings assigned in the unit. It will include a summary and critique of key theories identified in the readings and a reflection on how each reading contributes to your own theoretical development.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of geography and planning as academic disciplines, including theoretical orientations, concepts, histories and principal subfields.
- Critique key theoretical approaches in geography and planning.
- Apply key theories and concepts in geography and planning to your own individual research.
- Use literacy and digital skills to communicate effectively using appropriate methods of communication.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Technology

This unit has a website which is accessible via www.mq.edu.au/iLearn. Here you can get access to unit materials including recording of lectures, copies of lecture slides, notices and a general discussion place to pose questions to staff.

Students are not required to acquire any specific technology for this unit but are expected to access the iLearn site and to use computers to produce their assignments.

Seminars

This unit will run as five discussion-based seminars across the session. These seminars will be held via Zoom.
