Unit description
This unit provides a broad overview of the research paradigms that characterize the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. Through this unit, the Faculty of Arts seeks to provide students with a constructive framework to recognise the possible contribution of diverse theoretical and disciplinary approaches. By concentrating on a core problem that crosses disciplinary boundaries in their final assessment task, demonstrating how that problem might be confronted under different paradigms, students will become conversant in a range of analytical techniques and theoretical perspectives. Students will learn to better recognise the assumptions that underwrite diverse approaches, their strengths, and their relations to each other, especially to facilitate collaboration and the exchange of ideas. Although much of scholarship today requires focused specialisation, being able to communicate our ideas, recognising the significance of new research, and building meaningful collaborations all require an understanding of the diversity of approaches available in the Arts.

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.

ULO3: communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.

ULO4: analyse a model text and identify broad paradigms being deployed by another theorist.

ULO5: devise model research projects, on a single topic, demonstrating command of multiple theoretical paradigms.

ULO6: describe and evaluate diverse theoretical paradigms in general and in relation to a particular research topic.

General Assessment Information

Full assessment details and resources are posted on the iLearn site.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Textual analysis essay	40%	No	14/04/2022
Research design paper	60%	No	03/06/2022

Textual analysis essay

Assessment Type [1]: Essay
Indicative Time on Task [2]: 20 hours
Due: 14/04/2022
Weighting: 40%

Based on target texts selected by the unit convenors, students are responsible for an analytical essay detailing where at least two (preferably three or more) of the research paradigms discussed in the unit have been employed. Students should be able to cite specific passages, concepts and terminology from the target text to demonstrate where and how a paradigm is being used, and relate them to readings, lectures, and key concepts from the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.
- communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.
- analyse a model text and identify broad paradigms being deployed by another theorist.

Research design paper

Assessment Type [1]: Essay
Indicative Time on Task [2]: 30 hours
Due: 03/06/2022
Weighting: 60%

The research design paper is an essay in which the student will lay out the initial proposal for three different project designs, all on a single topic, demonstrating how the project would be articulated under three different research paradigms.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- refer to and use key texts and intellectual paradigms in the context of a range of Arts disciplines.
- communicate a clear and coherent explanation of ideas to different audiences, including within their own discipline and across cognate disciplines.
- devise model research projects, on a single topic, demonstrating command of multiple theoretical paradigms.
- describe and evaluate diverse theoretical paradigms in general and in relation to a particular research topic.

Changes from Previous Offering

Paradigms covered have been reduced to allow for more time in the unit to grapple with ideas, complete readings and work on assessments. "Debate weeks" have been introduced to model discussion of research paradigms in action.
