Unit description
This unit provides the foundation for further studies and practice in the discipline of public health. You will learn about the core functions and history of public health, determinants of health and current population health issues both locally and globally. You will also explore the Australian and other major health care systems and their roles in public health as well as being introduced to and applying principles of public health ethics. Interactive sessions will bring together learning and equip you with both knowledge and practical skills essential in moving forward in your studies and future public health practice.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes
On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

UL01: Define public health and explain its core functions
UL02: Evaluate how historical development of population-based approaches to health have influenced current health and public health services
UL03: Appraise social, political and environmental factors in shaping the health of populations
UL04: Discuss priority health problems relevant to specific populations/communities
UL05: Critically examine, describe and apply principles of public health ethics in the provision of healthcare and public health programs
ULO6: Demonstrate effective communications skills in the context of professional public health activities

General Assessment Information

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, and are not the sole responsibility of the Unit Convenor. Students will be awarded a final grade, which corresponds to the grade descriptors specified in the Assessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, students must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet any ungraded requirements including professionalism, and achieve a final mark of 50 or better.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Extensions for Assessment tasks

Late Submission of Work

All assignments which are officially received after the due date, and where no extension has been granted by the course convenor or tutor, will incur a deduction of 5% per day penalty including weekends and public holidays. If you submit the assessment task 10 days or more beyond the due date, without an approved extension, you will be awarded a maximum of 50% of the overall assessment marks.

Delivery and Resources

Unit Organisation

This is a ten credit point unit run over a 13 week session. Further information is available via the HSYP8100 online Learning Management System (LMS) iLearn http://ilearn.mq.edu.
Readings

The readings for each week will be listed in iLearn using the Leganto system. Leganto is the reading list management system, which you can access through your iLearn unit. More information on Leganto is available here: http://libguides.mq.edu.au/leganto

Readings marked as ‘required’ are essential for completion in the marked week. Some readings may be included that are marked as ‘recommended’ or ‘secondary sources’, these are additional materials that may be of interest to you. Please use these at your discretion.

Technology and equipment

Off-campus

To study optimally when off campus you will need to have access to a reliable internet connection to retrieve unit information and at times to join interactive session (eg zoom) or submit assessment tasks via iLearn.

On-campus

Teaching rooms are equipped with state of art audio-visual and ICT equipment including internet connection, high quality video cameras and multiple LCD screens.

Please note that this unit has been altered to accommodate our delivery provisions in compliance with current COVID-19 requirements (Special Circumstance delivery). Learning activities (such as tutorials and other small group learning activities) will be offered on-campus while keeping an online version available for those students who choose to continue their studies online (selected via eStudent).
