Unit description

This unit examines the theory and practice of test use in professional psychology. The unit teaches key aspects of administration, scoring and interpretation of a broad range of tests likely to be utilised in professional psychological practice. Students are instructed in the accurate reporting of results.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Administer a variety of psychological tests of cognition and behaviour used in the specific discipline of enrolment, including competence in the selection and use of appropriate normative information.

ULO2: Score, interpret and communicate the results of psychological assessment, with reference to diagnostic considerations.

ULO3: Critically evaluate the current evidence base in order to conduct a suicide and risk assessment in line with regulatory frameworks.

General Assessment Information

Assessment Tasks

Students in each of the three cohorts enrolled in this unit will complete discipline-specific assessment tasks to meet the learning outcomes. Please see the iLearn page for information about the requirements of each task for your cohort.

Late submissions

All assessment tasks have a strict due date. Ordinarily, no extensions of time for submission of assessment tasks will be granted. If students experience unexpected, unavoidable, and serious circumstances affecting submission of assessable work they may lodge an application for Special Consideration via ask.mq.edu.au with supporting documentary evidence. Please note that special consideration must be made no later than the University-specified number of working days after the due date of the assessment task (see ask.mq.edu.au for details). Where special consideration has not been granted, late submissions will not be accepted.

Word Count Penalty

Where an assessment task is a written piece of work, a word limit will be specified (see iLearn). For written assessment tasks, 5% of the possible mark will be deducted per 100 words over the word limit for the task. An additional 99 words beyond the limit can be written without penalty.

Please see links to the Assessment Policy and the Special Consideration Policy in the Policies and Procedures section of this Unit Guide.
