Unit description

In this unit, students will gain a thorough understanding of the nature and aetiology of disorders of voice, and fluency, in adults and children. Speech pathology assessment practices, including the use of instrumental and perceptual measures, identification of typical and unusual characteristics, and analysis and interpretation of results will be critically explored. Speech pathology interventions for these disorders, and the research evidence supporting them, will also be critically explored.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Analyse and evaluate accounts of the aetiology of voice and fluency disorders, focusing on their implications for diagnosis.

ULO2: Identify, analyse, and describe signs of voice and fluency disorders, and their implications for communication, health, and social participation.

ULO3: Select and justify appropriate, evidence-based speech pathology assessment and intervention for voice and fluency disorders.

ULO4: Utilise a social, collaborative, client-centred model of assessment and intervention for people with voice or fluency disorders.

ULO5: Critically appraise the research evidence supporting speech pathology assessment and intervention for people experiencing voice and fluency disorders, and employ it appropriately to promote client-centred care.

General Assessment Information

Grade descriptors and other information concerning grading are contained in the Macquarie University Assessment Policy.

All final grades are determined by a grading committee, in accordance with the Macquarie University Assessment Policy, and are not the sole responsibility of the Unit Convenor.

Students will be awarded a final grade and a mark which must correspond to the grade descriptors specified in the Assessment Procedure (clause 128).

To pass this unit, you must demonstrate sufficient evidence of achievement of the learning outcomes, meet any ungraded requirements, and achieve a final mark of 50 or better.

Further details for each assessment task will be available on iLearn.

Late Submissions

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (OF THE TOTAL POSSIBLE MARK) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For example:

Number of days (hours) late	Total Possible Marks	Deduction	Raw mark	Final mark
1 day (1-24 hours)	100	5	75	70
2 days (24-48 hours)	100	10	75	65
3 days (48-72 hours)	100	15	75	60
7 days (144-168 hours)	100	35	75	40
>7 days (>168 hours)	100	-	75	0

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Case based assessment - voice disorder	50%	Yes	Mid-session break: 16 September
Case based assessment - fluency disorder	50%	Yes	15 November

Case based assessment - voice disorder

Assessment Type ¹: Case study/analysis

Indicative Time on Task ²: 38 hours

Due: Mid-session break: 16 September

Weighting: 50%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

In this assessment task, students will be provided with case information relating to people who have voice disorders. They will also be provided with clinical scenarios, and asked to develop plans relating to speech pathology assessment and intervention for these people. The assessment task will require students to integrate and synthesise case information, case data, theory, research evidence, and routine speech pathology practices in order to formulate plans.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse and evaluate accounts of the aetiology of voice and fluency disorders, focusing on their implications for diagnosis.
- Identify, analyse, and describe signs of voice and fluency disorders, and their implications for communication, health, and social participation.
- Select and justify appropriate, evidence-based speech pathology assessment and intervention for voice and fluency disorders.
- Utilise a social, collaborative, client-centred model of assessment and intervention for people with voice or fluency disorders.
- Critically appraise the research evidence supporting speech pathology assessment and intervention for people experiencing voice and fluency disorders, and employ it appropriately to promote client-centred care.

Case based assessment - fluency disorder

Assessment Type ¹: Case study/analysis

Indicative Time on Task ²: 39 hours

Due: 15 November

Weighting: 50%

This is a hurdle assessment task (see assessment policy for more information on hurdle assessment tasks)

In this assessment task, students will be provided with case information relating to people who have fluency disorders. They will also be provided with clinical scenarios, and asked to develop plans relating to speech pathology assessment and intervention for these people. The assessment task will require students to integrate and synthesise case information, case data, theory, research evidence, and routine speech pathology practices in order to formulate plans.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Analyse and evaluate accounts of the aetiology of voice and fluency disorders, focusing on their implications for diagnosis.
- Identify, analyse, and describe signs of voice and fluency disorders, and their implications for communication, health, and social participation.
- Select and justify appropriate, evidence-based speech pathology assessment and intervention for voice and fluency disorders.

- Critically appraise the research evidence supporting speech pathology assessment and intervention for people experiencing voice and fluency disorders, and employ it appropriately to promote client-centred care.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

As a student enrolled in this unit, you will engage in a range of independent and collaborative learning activities. In particular, students will participate in 3 hour seminar classes blending teaching-fronted delivery with small group activities. Students will be expected to engage with learning materials and activities before attending and participating in weekly classes, and then to complete learning activities following class. All scheduled learning activities will take place over the standard 13 weeks of the session. Full details can be found on the iLearn site for this unit.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central (<https://policies.smq.edu.au>). Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

The policy applies to all who connect to the MQ network including students.

Inclusion and Diversity

Social inclusion at Macquarie University is about giving everyone who has the potential to benefit from higher education the opportunity to study at university, participate in campus life and flourish in their chosen field. The University has made significant moves to promote an equitable, diverse and exciting campus community for the benefit of staff and students. It is your responsibility to contribute towards the development of an inclusive culture and practice in the areas of learning and teaching, research, and service orientation and delivery. As a member of the Macquarie University community, you must not discriminate against or harass others based on their sex, gender, race, marital status, carers' responsibilities, disability, sexual orientation, age, political conviction or religious belief. All staff and students are expected to display appropriate behaviour that is conducive to a healthy learning environment for everyone.

Professionalism

In the Faculty of Medicine, Health and Human Sciences, professionalism is a key capability embedded in all our courses.

As part of developing professionalism, students are expected to attend all small group interactive sessions including clinical, practical, laboratory, work-integrated learning (e.g., PACE placements), and team-based learning activities. Some learning activities are recorded (e.g., face-to-face lectures), however you are encouraged to avoid relying upon such material as they do not recreate the whole learning experience and technical issues can and do occur. As an adult learner, we respect your decision to choose how you engage with your learning, but we would remind you that the learning opportunities we create for you have been done so to enable your success, and that by not engaging you may impact your ability to successfully complete this unit. We equally expect that you show respect for the academic staff who have worked hard to develop meaningful activities and prioritise your learning by communicating with them in advance if you are unable to attend a small group interactive session.

Another dimension of professionalism is having respect for your peers. It is the right of every student to learn in an environment that is free of disruption and distraction. Please arrive to all learning activities on time, and if you are unavoidably detained, please join activity as quietly as possible to minimise disruption. Phones and other electronic devices that produce noise and other distractions must be turned off prior to entering class. Where your own device (e.g., laptop) is being used for class-related activities, you are asked to close down all other applications to avoid distraction to you and others. Please treat your fellow students with the utmost respect. If you are uncomfortable participating in any specific activity, please let the relevant academic know.
