Unit description

A rich sociological tradition as well as contemporary research highlight the extraordinariness of 'ordinary' life and culture. In all that we do social norms and cultural attitudes are entwined with structural conditions. But we are more than workers, economic actors, or citizens. We are also lovers and friends, children, siblings and parents. We spend time pursuing leisure activities, inhabit a range of private and public spaces, engage with a variety of media, find pleasure in eating and consuming. So, how do we negotiate our freedoms and constraints, individual agency and its limits, the tension between tradition and the new, the boundaries of self and other? This unit explores the extraordinary social accomplishment of ordinary life. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see

www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: understand key concepts, issues and contemporary debates in the sociology of everyday life and cultural sociology.

ULO2: analyse historical and contemporary practices of everyday life and culture.

ULO3: describe the social constraints and enabling mechanism of everyday life, such as class, gender and cultural background.

ULO4: demonstrate research skills in sourcing and analysing key arguments and debates in the sociology of everyday life and cultural sociology.

General Assessment Information

Echo recordings are available for OUA students.

Please note that lectures in Module 1 Everyday Intimacies are pre-recorded.

Students must complete the weekly tutorial questions as evidence of their participation.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue. This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic
