Unit description

Archival research is understood to be the foundation of the practice of professional historical inquiry. These various historical artefacts are considered our window onto past lives, experiences and processes. As any historian will admit, however, archives are always partial, incomplete and imperfect. So too, the processes by which certain kinds of knowledge is retained and other kinds of knowledge discarded, dismissed or concealed reveals the inherently politicized character of archival collection. This unit will critically and historically consider the relationship between the historian, archives and the past. How and when did modern “archives” emerge? What was their purpose? What are the implications for historical authority if we admit that the foundation of our disciplinary practice is always incomplete and partial? What new archives have emerged in late modernity? Is the internet one huge and unruly archive?

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Demonstrate coherent and advanced knowledge of some of history’s principles, methods, and concepts.

ULO2: Demonstrate skills in reviewing, analysing, and synthesizing historians' use of archival evidence and argumentation.

ULO3: Demonstrate initiative and judgment in historical scholarship.

ULO4: Identify and reflect critically upon the knowledge and skills developed in the student's own study of history.

ULO5: Demonstrate written and verbal communication skills to present a clear and coherent exposition of historical knowledge.

General Assessment Information

Full descriptions can be found on ilearn.

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Analytical essay

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 23 hours

Due: 30 Sep, 11.59pm

Weighting: 30%

Students must complete a 1,500-2,000-word preliminary analysis of one piece of self-located historical evidence. Students are free to choose any type of evidence (eg. a document, an object, a piece of art, etc).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate coherent and advanced knowledge of some of history's principles, methods, and concepts.

- Demonstrate skills in reviewing, analysing, and synthesizing historians' use of archival evidence and argumentation.
- Demonstrate initiative and judgment in historical scholarship.
- Identify and reflect critically upon the knowledge and skills developed in the student's own study of history.
- Demonstrate written and verbal communication skills to present a clear and coherent exposition of historical knowledge.

Synthetic Essay

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 40 hours

Due: 11 Nov, 11.59pm

Weighting: 50%

Students will write a critically reflective 3,000-3,500-word essay that engages with at least six (6) weekly topics. Students should devise their own essay question relating to the unit theme of archive and the problems of archival research, and have complete free rein in doing so.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate coherent and advanced knowledge of some of history's principles, methods, and concepts.
- Demonstrate skills in reviewing, analysing, and synthesizing historians' use of archival evidence and argumentation.
- Demonstrate initiative and judgment in historical scholarship.
- Identify and reflect critically upon the knowledge and skills developed in the student's own study of history.
- Demonstrate written and verbal communication skills to present a clear and coherent exposition of historical knowledge.

Reflective Journal

Indicative Time on Task <sup>2</sup>: 12 hours

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 20%

This unit has a online blog--open to and visible to all students enrolled in the unit--on which students will maintain an individual journal. Students need to make five (5) posts over the course of the semester. Each post needs to be 200-300 words in length. A post needs to be made after the seminar has met and should reflect on the week's theme, the connections between the theme and the readings, and should include any insights gained from class discussions and any questions or problems that still remain.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate coherent and advanced knowledge of some of history's principles, methods, and concepts.
- Demonstrate skills in reviewing, analysing, and synthesizing historians' use of archival evidence and argumentation.
- Demonstrate initiative and judgment in historical scholarship.
- Identify and reflect critically upon the knowledge and skills developed in the student's own study of history.
- Demonstrate written and verbal communication skills to present a clear and coherent exposition of historical knowledge.
