Unit description

Health is a universal human right, and the ability to live healthy lives and access healthcare when needed affects everyone. This course reflects the significance of health not only for those in clinical roles and the broader health sector, but all of us. It examines the relationship between equity, rights and health at the individual level (the rights and obligations of patients and providers), the institutional level (the forces that shape and inform provision of healthcare), and the environmental level (the interconnectedness of human, animal and environmental health).

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Outline key issues in healthcare ethics

ULO2: Deploy ethical concepts and theories to relevant case studies

ULO4: Formulate and defend your own ideas with clarity and rigour

ULO3: Critically evaluate arguments relating to key topics in healthcare ethics

ULO5: Appeal to relevant concepts to clearly communicate arguments

General Assessment Information

NOTE: It is expected that students will complete ALL ASSESSMENT COMPONENTS in this unit. You do not need to have passed each assessment to pass the unit, but it is expected that all assessments are attempted.

General Submission Procedure: Written assessments must be submitted via TurnItIn at the correct link provided on the Unit iLearn site.

Extensions: Extensions must be sought via the MQ Special Consideration application procedure, in advance of the due date. Extensions will only be granted for medical or equivalent reasons, supported by documentation (medical certificate or equivalent). Please note that workload in other units, and employment outside of university, will not be accepted as grounds for an extension.

LATE SUBMISSION POLICY: Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – ten marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

Delivery and Resources

Due to COVID-19 there will be a recorded lecture each week (which may be broken into 2-3 parts) and one 1-hour tutorial (Internals) or discussion board Forum (Externals) per week. Depending on numbers, the Internal students tutorial will be either by zoom or face to face (to be notified).

Students are expected to complete at least 3.5 hours of unit reading and private study per week in this unit, additional to lecture listening and tutorial participation and any assessment preparation time.

REQUIRED READING: All required readings in this unit can be accessed via the PHIL3041 Leganto link on the unit iLearn site. Additional readings will be notified on iLearn and in lectures. The readings are compulsory reading for the unit. You will be expected to keep up with the readings throughout the semester, and succession tutorial discussion will required prior familiarity with the required readings.
