Unit description

This unit explores the law relating to the making and construction of wills; the grant of probate and administration; and the distribution of testate and intestate estates. The provisions of the Family Provision Act 1982 are considered as well as those of the Wills, Probate and Administration Act 1898 (NSW) and the Succession Act 2006 (NSW). Emphasis is given to the role of the lawyer in planning the client's affairs in the light of the above legislation. Students in this unit will study will drafting and complete exercises in drafting a will that complies with a client's instructions.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Describe and explain links between understandings of property and relationships in the context of succession law.

ULO2: Analyse case law on the Succession Act 2006 (NSW) and apply to the validity and interpretation of wills.

ULO3: Critically evaluate the law on family provision and apply family provision legislation to complex factual situations involving estate disputes.

ULO4: Advise on competing family claims dealing with testate estates, intestate estates and partial intestacy.

ULO5: Assess the various legal principles to give appropriate advice on wills.

General Assessment Information

Students should be aware of and apply the University policy on academic honesty.

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – 10 marks out of 100 credit will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted seven days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments - e.g. quizzes, online tests.

All assessments are submitted electronically. Turnitin plagiarism detection software is used to check all written assessments.

Students should carefully check that they submit the correct file for an assessment as no re-submissions will be accepted after the due date and time, including instances where students upload an incorrect file in error.

Word limits are strictly applied. Work above the word limit will not be marked. Footnotes are to be used only for referencing. Referencing must conform to the requirements set out in the Australian Guide to Legal Citation.

Marking of all assessments is moderated through a process of blind marking and the use of detailed marking rubrics.
