Unit description

This unit examines recorded sound and its relation to society. Areas of investigation include changes in technology and cultural context, expectations of fidelity, remote and field recording issues and practice, production values, media and distribution, recording ethics and relevant legal issues.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: evaluate the history of recorded sound and technology.

ULO2: analyse scholarship on recording and its relationship to society.

ULO3: investigate changes in technology use in the field of sound recording.

ULO4: implement essential production skills to accompany theoretical exploration.

ULO5: synthesize recording strategies to explore relationships between sound and society.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a mark of '0' (zero) will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical issue.

This late penalty will apply to non-timed sensitive assessment (incl essays, reports, posters, portfolios, journals, recordings etc). Late submission of time sensitive tasks (such as tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, scheduled practical assessments/labs etc) will only be addressed by the unit convenor in a Special consideration application. Special Consideration outcome may result in a new question or topic.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Personal recording set-up	15%	No	23:59 on 26/08/2022
Reading summaries	35%	No	11:59 on Fridays in weeks 3, 7 and 9
Production portfolio	25%	No	23:59 on 04/11/2022
Exegesis	25%	No	23:59 on 04/11/2022

Personal recording set-up

Assessment Type ¹: Practice-based task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 10 hours

Due: 23:59 on 26/08/2022

Weighting: 15%

Establish a simple but effective and practical home recording or portable solution based on the advice and information presented in the first three weeks. Document this process, and complete a series of guided recorded tasks.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- investigate changes in technology use in the field of sound recording.
- implement essential production skills to accompany theoretical exploration.

Reading summaries

Assessment Type ¹: Summary

Indicative Time on Task ²: 30 hours

Due: 11:59 on Fridays in weeks 3, 7 and 9

Weighting: 35%

A series of readings are presented throughout the course, and students are to write critical summaries of a selection of these readings. These will be assessed starting in week 3 on an ongoing basis.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- evaluate the history of recorded sound and technology.
- analyse scholarship on recording and its relationship to society.

Production portfolio

Assessment Type ¹: Portfolio

Indicative Time on Task ²: 37 hours

Due: 23:59 on 04/11/2022

Weighting: 25%

A final recorded portfolio containing completed recorded works based on production research. Submission via iLearn. Final stereo mixdowns are to be uploaded to iLearn. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- implement essential production skills to accompany theoretical exploration.
- synthesize recording strategies to explore relationships between sound and society.

Exegesis

Assessment Type ¹: Report

Indicative Time on Task ²: 25 hours

Due: 23:59 on 04/11/2022

Weighting: 25%

Students will submit a report which describes their production research and clearly outlines how they have translated that research into practice to inform their approach to producing the recordings. This report should include critical analyses of the 3 case studies used as models, a description of the recording process undertaken (with technical details), and a reflection on the strengths and weaknesses of the final result. Refer to iLearn for further information.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- evaluate the history of recorded sound and technology.
- analyse scholarship on recording and its relationship to society.
- investigate changes in technology use in the field of sound recording.
- implement essential production skills to accompany theoretical exploration.

¹ If you need help with your assignment, please contact:

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation
